Code of Ethics

A loyal farmer
Attends classes regularly
Strives for good scholarship
Continually seeks to better himself
Does his very best at all times
Is truthful
Considers others,
Finishes any job he starts
Takes pride in the appearance of his school
Shows respect for teachers, other school employees, and fellow students
Abides by the rules, regulations, and traditions of Hayward High
Knows the reputation of his school depends upon him
Lives by the axiom: YOU KNOW WHAT IS RIGHT: DO IT!

Alma Mater

Hail Hayward, hail
We hail thee Hayward High
Firm and strong
Sing your praises to the sky
Truth and right
To your colors we unfold
Our loyal team we pledge thee
All hail the Black and Gold
And praise our Alma Mater
All hail thee, Hayward High

Dedication

Esther McStay

In the light of all the fine contributions Miss Esther McStay has made to Hayward High School and its students, this book is gratefully dedicated as a token of our appreciation. Seniors past and present will remember her for her devotion to her job instructing students in English 7A-8A and preparing them to pass the college entrance subject A examination.

Miss McStay came to Hayward High School in 1929 from Kansas State College. She completed her graduate work at the University of California and attended summer classes at Stanford. She was head of the English department at Hayward until after World War II and was president of the Hayward High School Teacher's Association. Not too long ago she was the tennis champion of the faculty. For several years Miss McStay was an active and interested leader in the Future Teachers of America Club here. She is still an active member of the book club she formed twenty-five years ago. She feels so strongly that a college education is important that after securing her first job, she sent her mother back to college to complete her education. Miss McStay has had the pleasure of having the children of her past students in her classes and especially enjoys having students return to visit her. She highlights her life by listening to music, attending stage plays, and indulging in numerous hobbies.

We are proud that such a fine teacher is a member of the Hayward High School faculty.

Miss McStay and Principal Oakes plan for the annual May Subject-A examination.

Senior President, Max Levine, receives help with his term report.

To Three Favorite Educators

Because of her devotion to teaching and in gratitude for the many years she has spent giving service to our community we also dedicate our book to Helga Nielsen upon her retirement. Miss Nielsen has served as head counselor at Hayward for twelve years. Prior to this she taught practically everything from girls' physical education to English and Latin. Wherever she was needed, there she was found. Miss Nielsen belongs to one of the oldest families in the community. As a student she attended the old high school on "B" and Soto Streets for two years. Riding horseback five miles every day, she finished high school in the new Hayward High in 1915 (our Administration Building). "Thank You" seems inadequate but is meant sincerely. The future students of Hayward High School will miss knowing a truly fine person.

Helga Nielsen

Even though our diligent Head Counselor works many hours overtime, she is always cheerful and efficient.

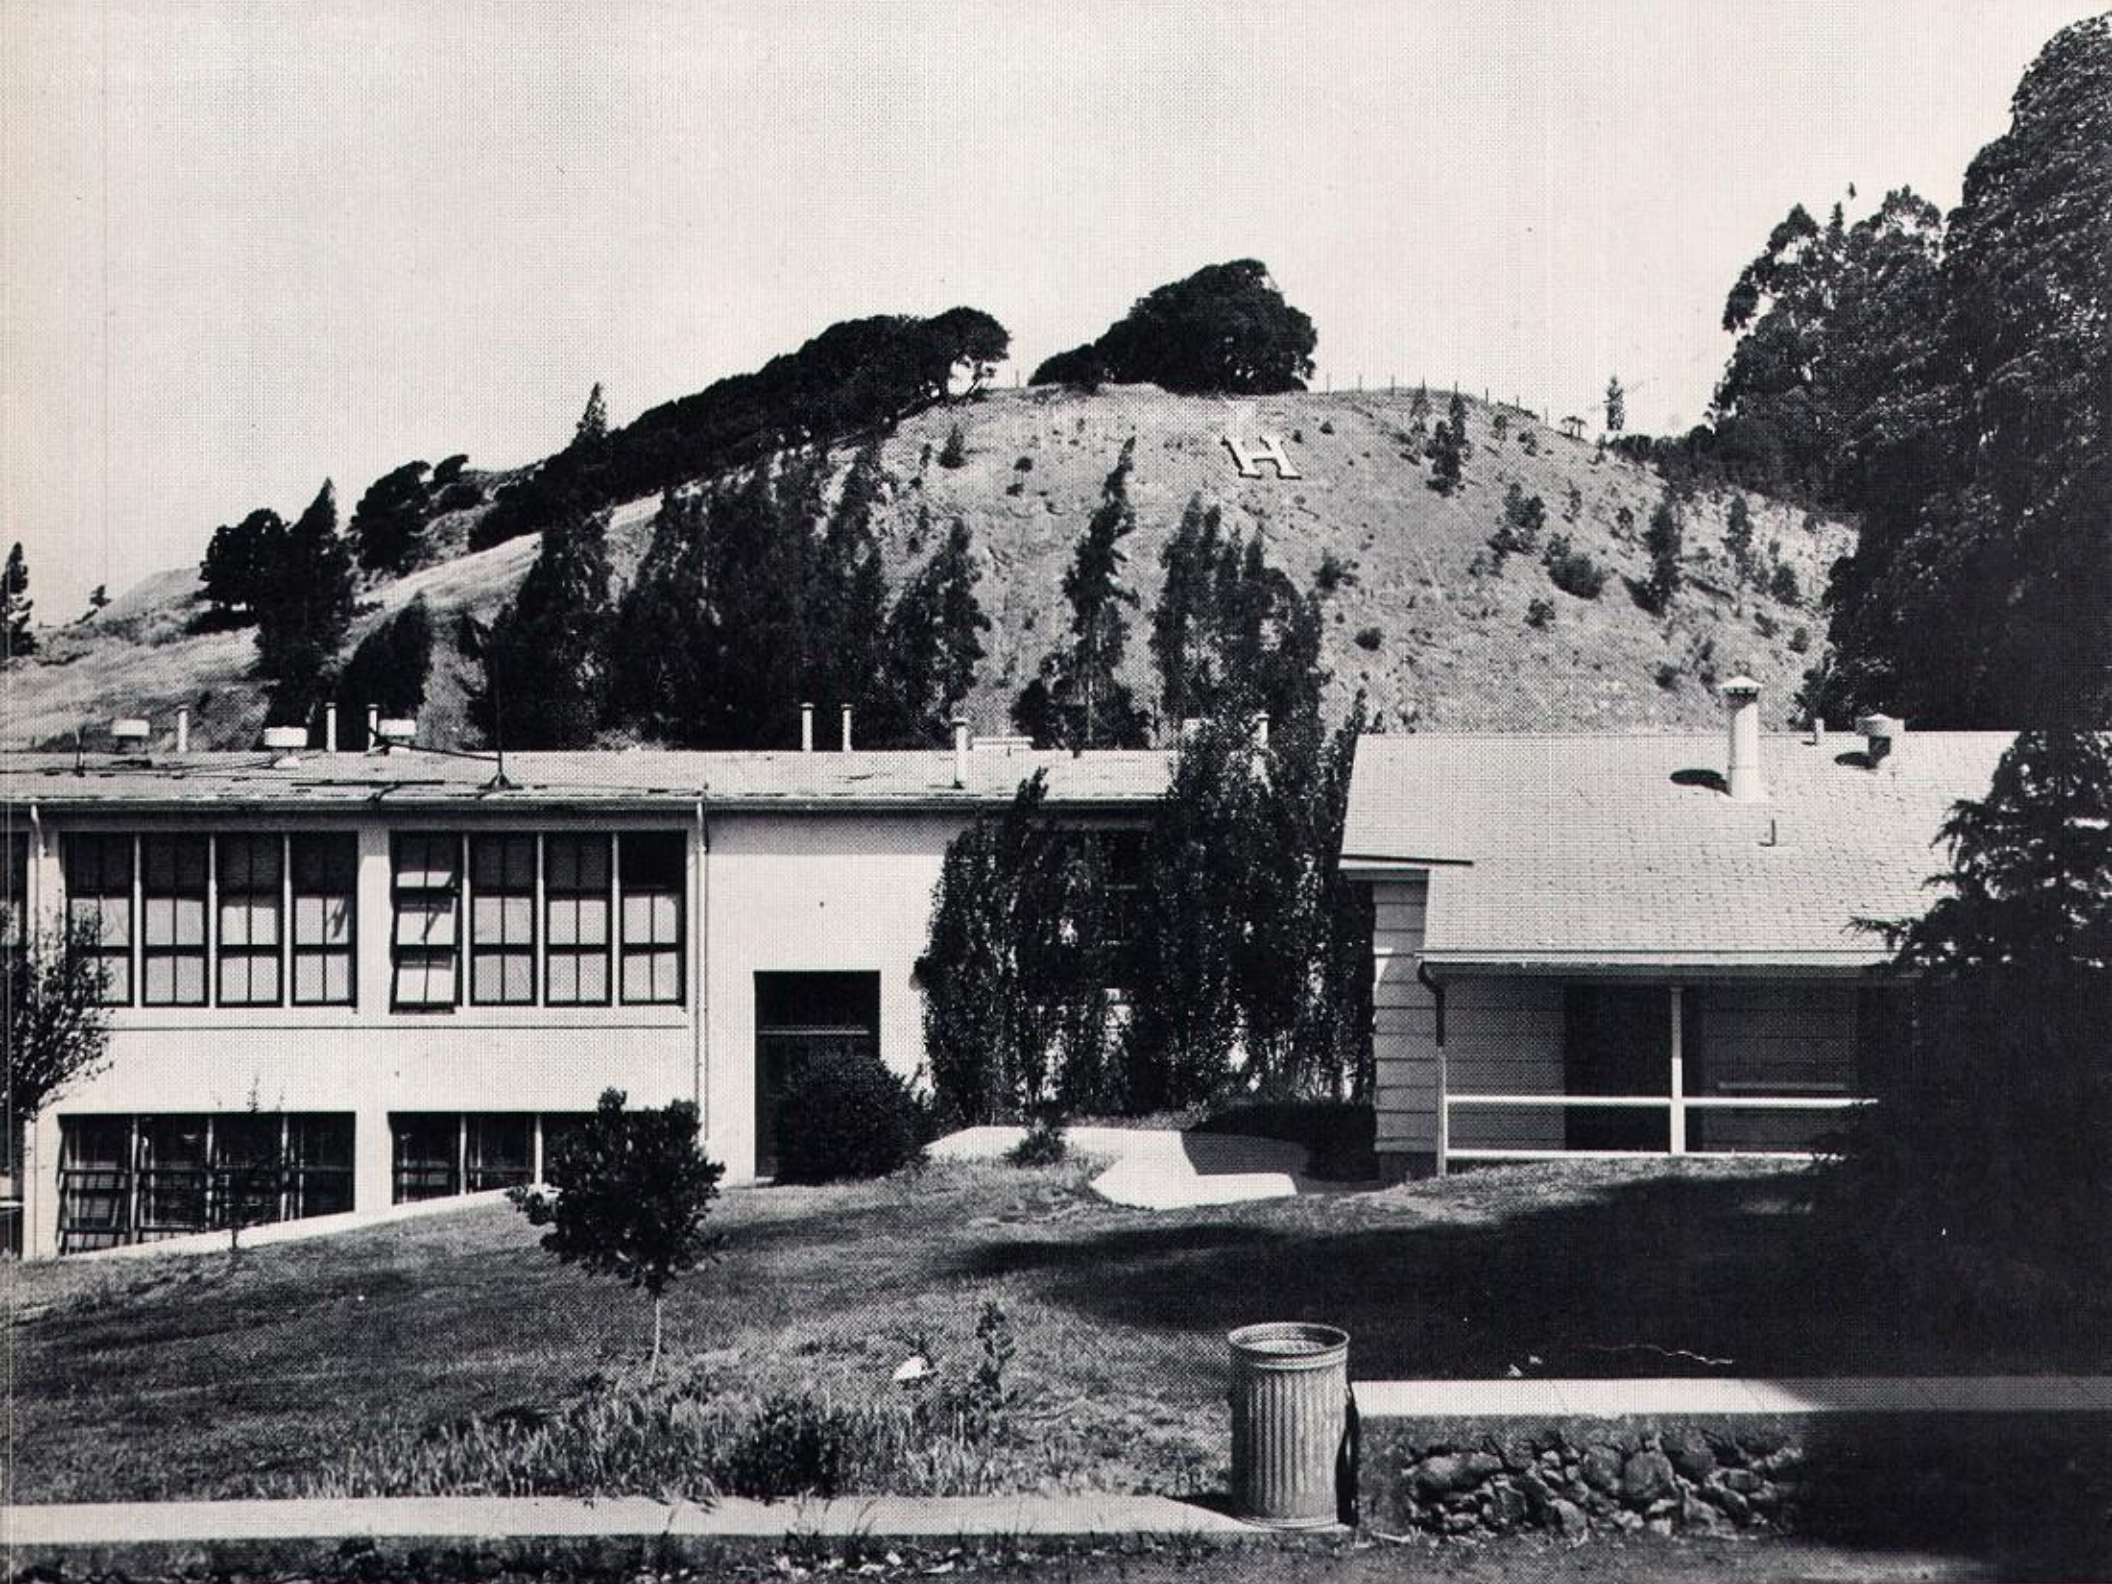

During the past five years, Hayward High has seen many changes in faculty — sending teachers to staff the new schools built in our district each year. We have missed our friends who have departed, but the greatest blow of all is the coming departure of our highly respected and admired Vice Principal Norman Sanders. Mr. Sanders has proved himself a friend to all — students and faculty alike. He has done much to make student life more enjoyable since he came here in 1938. Mr. Sanders will serve as vice principal at our new Sunset High next year. In appreciation for his fine work, we dedicate our book to him. We will miss him. We hope he will miss us too.

Norman Sanders

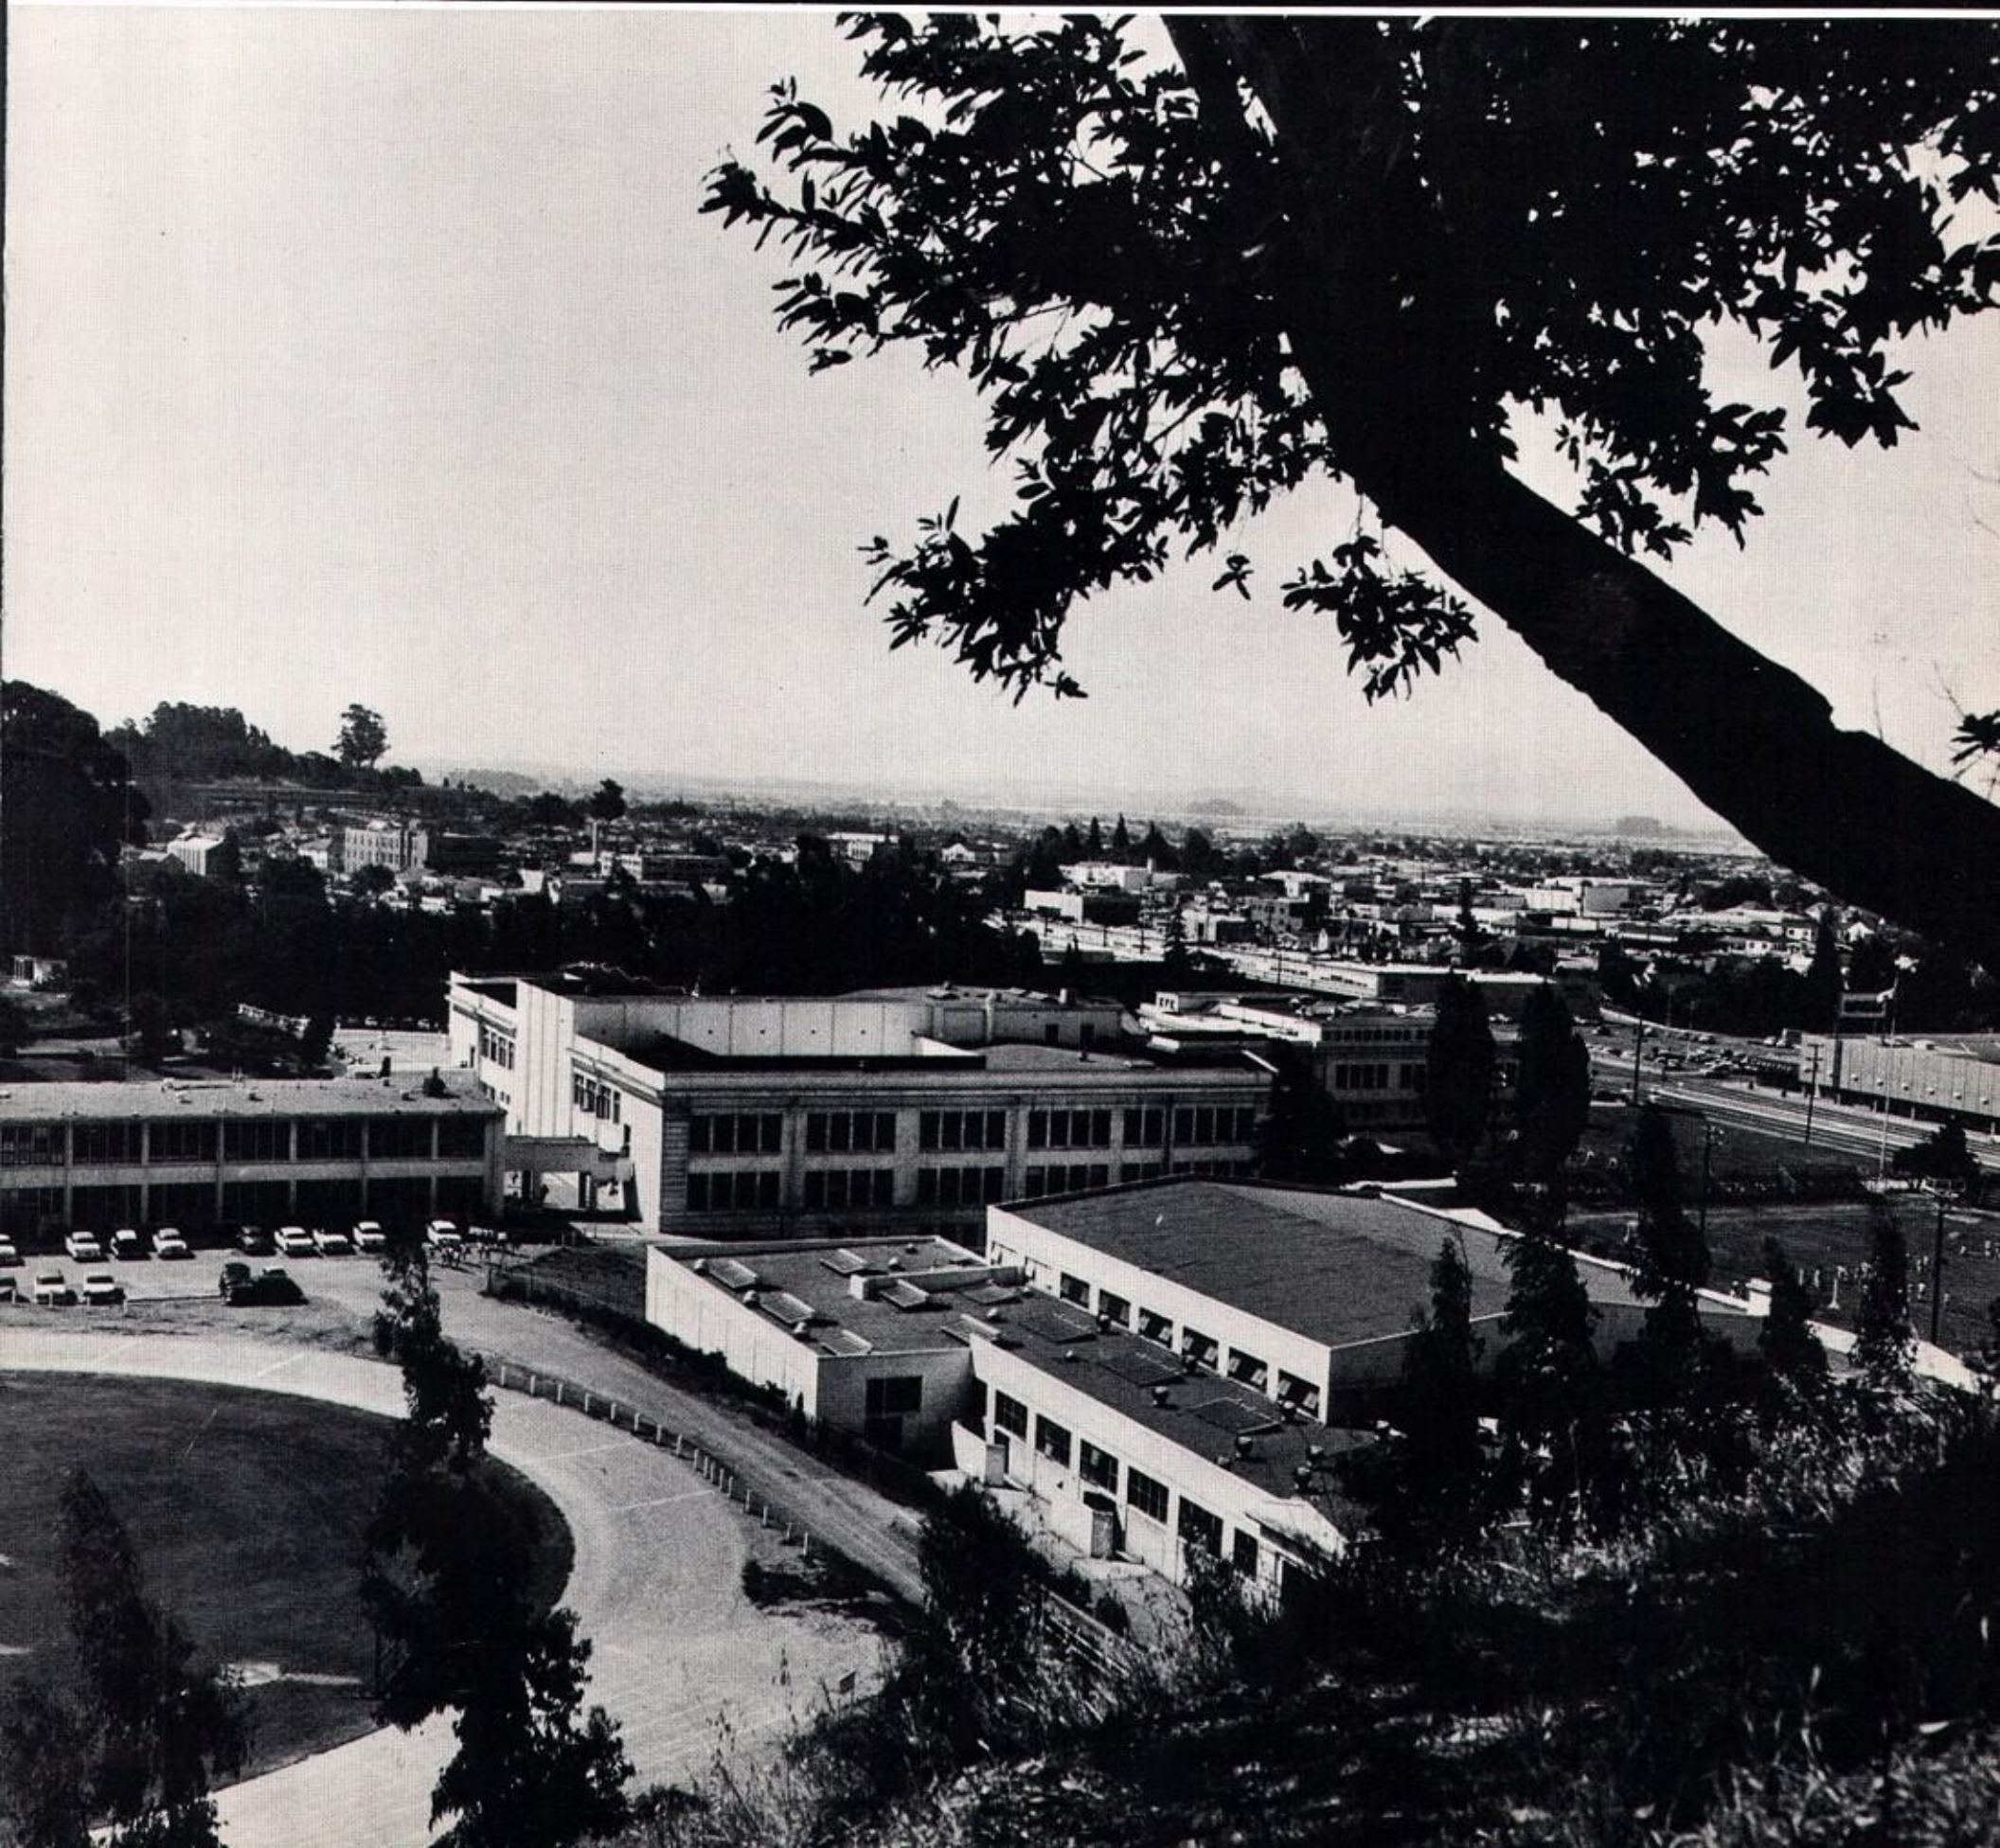

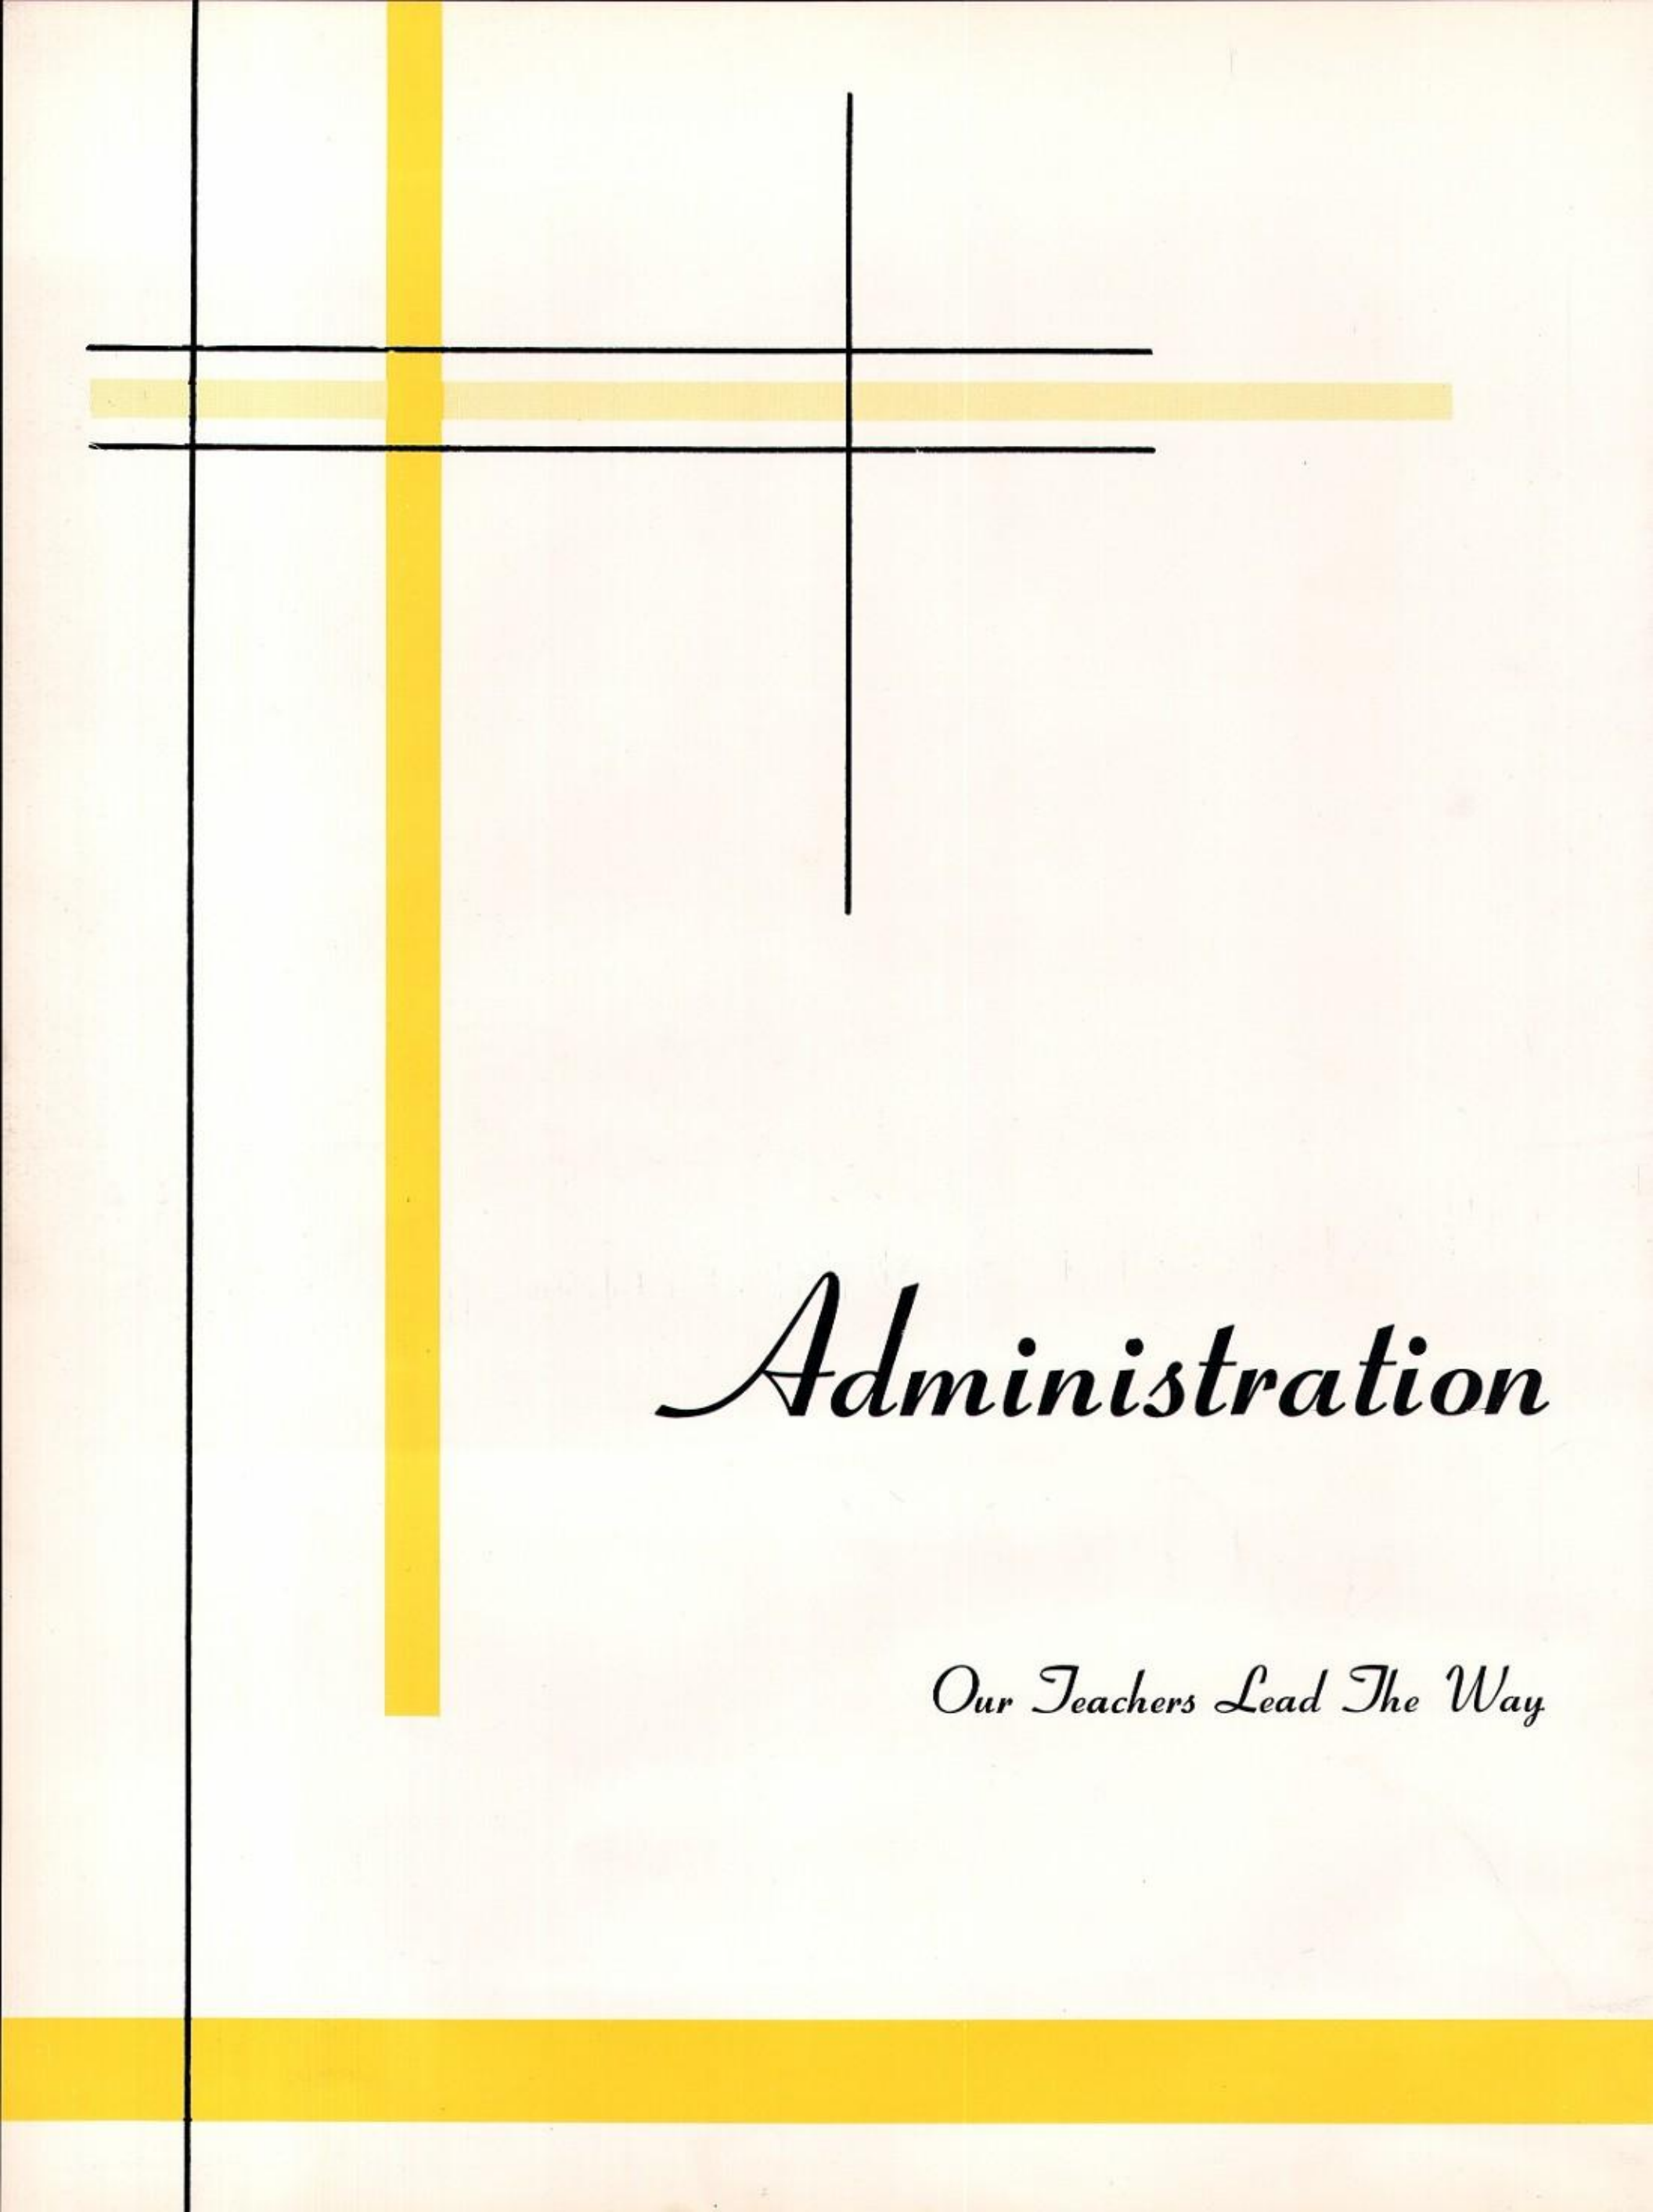

"I've finally caught you" sighs Wanda Bray, Mr. Sander's secretary, as he pauses for a fleeting moment in a busy day.

School symbol, the "H," as seen from Science and Language Arts Buildings.

A view of Parson's Field, Boys' Gym, the Science and Auditorium Buildings.

An abstract geometric design featuring a vertical yellow bar on the left, a horizontal yellow bar across the middle, and a thick yellow bar at the bottom. Black lines intersect these yellow bars, forming a grid-like structure. The word "Administration" is written in a cursive font in the center-right area.

Administration

Our Teachers Lead The Way

SEATED: Don Oakes, principal, and Katherine Anderson, dean of girls. STANDING: Norman Sanders, vice principal, and Robert Regier, dean of boys.

Planning curriculum, class load adjustments, and attendance regulations, our leaders paved the PATHWAY for compatible student life at Hayward High School.

Administration provides

Principal Don Oakes devotes many hours to his job.

Our Principal enjoys his associations with students and faculty.

Working constantly for the betterment of Hayward High School, Principal Don Oakes serves our students competently and well. In addition to the many hours devoted to running a school of Hayward's size, he takes time to be an active member of such professional organizations as Hayward High Teachers Association, Parent Teachers Association, Alameda County Education Association, and California Association of Secondary School Administrators.

Millie Olson faithfully handles all correspondence.

Miss Olsen is his efficient and congenial secretary who handles the switchboard, answers innumerable questions, serves as an information wizard, and makes the principal's office a pleasant place to visit.

guidance and wisdom

Norman Sanders, vice principal, takes a moment of his time to pose for our photographer.

Mrs. Wanda Bray, secretary to Mr. Sanders, is an efficient and diligent worker.

Mr. Sanders busy about his duties.

Our Vice-principal, Mr. Sanders, is an extremely understanding individual. His day is filled with many tasks and a few unpleasant duties, yet he meets them without hesitation or doubt. He is always pleasant, although very busy, and is very well liked by all. Some of his many duties are the assigning of substitute teachers, ordering supplies for the school, and taking care of bus transportation. He assists Mr. Oakes in many problems that arise during the day. He is a truly fine person and an asset to the school and community.

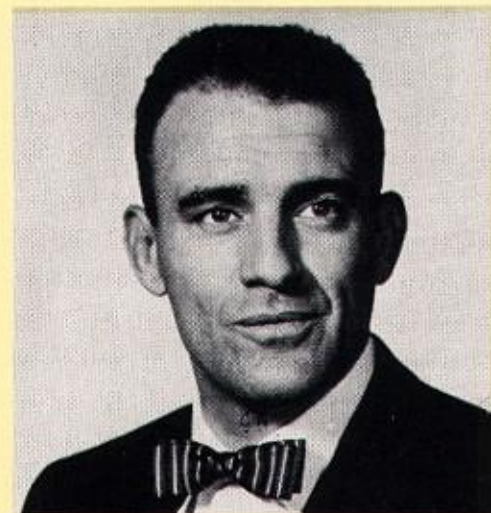

Mrs. Anderson always has a smile throughout her busy day.

Catherine Anderson
Dean of Girls

Robert Regier
Dean of Boys

Deans are our friends in need

Mrs. Anderson, as dean of girls, has one of the most time-consuming jobs at Hayward. She is a friend and adviser to the many girls under her supervision. She supervises all the night affairs and dances on campus and determines who has the privilege to obtain bids to these affairs. She also serves on the Administrative Council and Scholarship and Awards Committee. Busy as she is, she is always gracious, charming, a true friend to those who confide in her, and is always ready with a warm smile and friendly gesture for everyone.

Solving the numerous needs and problems of the male students here at Hayward is a big job which Mr. Regier handles very competently. Although his main interest lies with the boys, he also helps with the many problems confronting the Administrative Council and supervises all evening affairs on campus. Students at Hayward know Mr. Regier as a trusted friend and adviser.

Mr. Regier has a free moment during his busy day.

The Board of Trustees holds regular meetings every first and third Wednesday. Members are chosen by public vote. They serve our school and community well by studying proposed handbooks for improvement of school programs and by working with other boards and agencies on projects involving this district.

The Scholarship and Awards Committee

meets every third Wednesday to study the qualifications of outstanding students. Winners are determined by interviews and awards made before the student body.

The Administrative Council

meets the first Monday of the month and shoulders the many responsibilities and decisions that go toward making Hayward High the exceptional school that it is.

Doing For Others Pleases The Faculty

LaDonna Anglin runs the Addressograph, while Nancy Francis types plates on the Graphotype.

Jerry Alameda and Mr. Kalik operate the offset printing press.

Office Machines:

Office machines is a course that can be taken by any junior with a C+ in typing. The course consists of learning different methods of filing. The students soon acquire skill in running four different calculating machines. Students also learn to type dittoes, stencils, and masters and how to operate the machines on which these are run off. Thanks to Jerome Kalik, instructor, the busy office machines students print many things for the school: all the Fine Arts play programs and postcards, tests for teachers, maps for social studies, graduation tickets, student body cards, student directory, football programs, student body ballots and minutes of the meetings, letterheads, envelopes, dance-bids and programs, and hall passes. A running file is kept of the addresses of all the students and their parents for the purpose of addressing student bulletins, P.T.A. notices, etc.

Joyce Lema, Carol Gonsalves, and Cheryl Gonsalves type stencils.

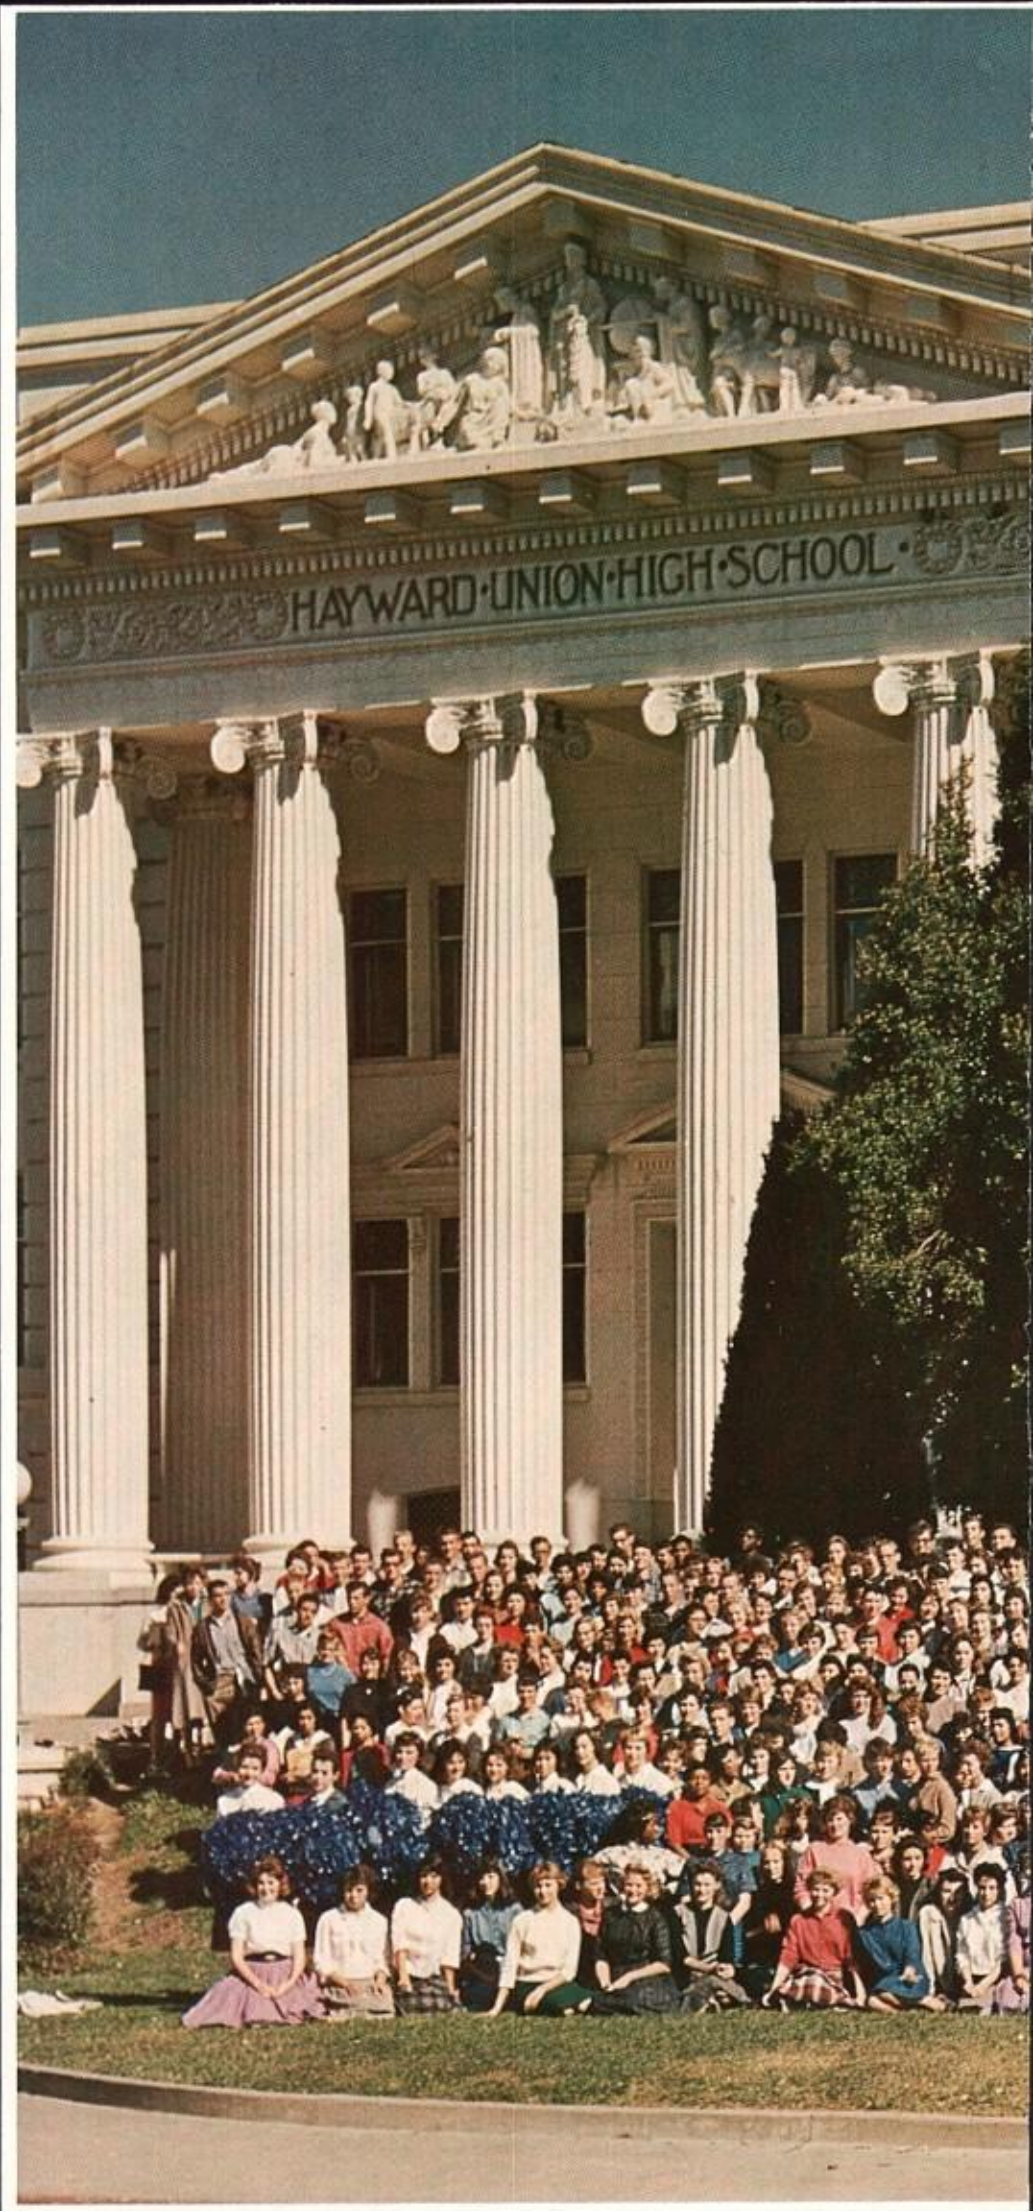

Carolyn Avelar and Rita Cain operate the stencil machine, while Barbara Shively operates the ditto machine.

Fall Officers

Under the direction of fall president Dave Paulo, the seniors set off to show the student body who was the best class at Hayward by beating the three others in the Student Body card sales held in September and the clean-up campaign held during October. Then they turned around and beat them all again by winning first place at the Downtown Rally held November 6th, the biggest competitive event held during the fall semester. The class raced on sponsoring a donut sale and then a dance — the theme of "Problems" being carried out by geometrical decorations. Participating in football, drama, and enjoying Family Living discussions in social studies, the class quieted down to dig into semester finals the middle of January.

Senior Counselors

Our counselors have guided us through our entire four years, have taught us in social studies, counseled us in the right selection of a course of study, advised us in personal and individual problems, and generally kept our well-being in mind constantly. These are teachers that seniors will never forget.

Spring Officers

Senior Advisers

The senior class advisers are (left to right): Dorothy Buckley, Eleanor Sekerak, Charles Kahn, and Alfred Redo. Advising a large senior class of 580 students wasn't an easy job, but our advisers never failed us. Supervising class council meetings, countless committee meetings, dances, donut sales, and campaigns never daunted them. We are sure they were well aware that the class of 1960 was the most active senior class ever at Hayward.

Rushing eagerly into the spring semester, the seniors elected a new slate of officers to be led by president Max Levine. They planned, worked diligently for, and presented the best Junior Prom on record January 15th, with the theme of "Arabian Nights." Already enmeshed in rehearsals, they faced the biggest event of the quarter — the Senior Extravaganza presented February 4th and 5th. Then came term reports, athletic championships, and finally the busy month of May with Senior Silence Day May 23rd closely followed by Cut Day and Hayday in the same week. Baccalaureate June 12th and Senior Ball June 14th wound up a tremendous year. Of course the grand finale was GRADUATION DAY, June 16th.

Big Sister Tea and Fashion Show

The Big Sister Tea, held in October every year, has become a tradition at Hayward High. The senior girls are assigned as big sisters to the freshmen and entertain them formally with a tea. This year it was held in the school cafeteria.

The Girl's League Fashion Show held in December, is also a senior affair as only seniors are chosen to model. Clothes for every occasion were borrowed from our co-operative merchants and displayed beautifully by our attractive models. The theme was "Holiday Wrappings." Carol Fowler, Girl's League president, was chairman and Bette Jean Foss was commentator. These two fashion events are cherished by every Farmerette.

Judy Bell, Bette Foss, Judy Serpa, Betty Arlington, Sue Donovan, Barbara Schulte and Darlene Dolin are among the girls who enjoyed refreshments in the cafeteria at the Big Sister Tea.

Seniors are proud of their cars

Senior students proudly display their cars with all of the extra articles which have been added to make them individual cars. Some of the cars have been named after a song, television program or a girl friend such as Ray Brandon's "Miss Judy," Bonnie Thompson's "Laramie," and Gary Souza's "Maverick."

The checking of brakes, windshield wipers, and tires are among the tests that every car must pass in order to pass the safety check and to park on the student parking lot. There is no assigned parking space for a student; consequently, it is mass confusion at 8:00 each morning — first come, first served. (More senior cars are pictured on page 216.)

Seniors Win Downtown Rally

"Sting the Spartans" was the theme of the float.

Seniors are announced the winners of Downtown Rally.

Another great victory of the senior class was the Downtown Rally. Their float entry was titled "Sting the Spartans" and showed a gigantic bee on top of the goal post stinging a Spartan representing Castro Valley who was on the field below.

The annual Downtown Rally was held November 6, 1959, during fourth and fifth periods. The students rallied for the Hayward-Castro Valley game. The four classes competed against each other. They were judged on class colors, white shirts, noise, float, and originality. Each class was allowed only $20 to work with. All the classes showed wonderful spirit which was the purpose of the rally.

Another year ends... graduation at last!

Another year comes to an end, after many festivities and fun filled days. The last month of school in a senior's life is one of rushing, studying, and most of all having fun. On "Senior Silence Day" this year the spies were really on their toes. Trina Phister, Jerry Fischer, and Robert Lane are only a few who regret speaking to underclassmen. The high point at "Cut Day," which was held at Little Hills Ranch in Crow Canyon, was when the Kangaroo Court was in session and all those accused of speaking to an underclassman were dunked into the pool. Baccalaureate, one of the more memorable occasions was held on June 12, 1960. On the Sunday before graduation all seniors who wish to participate in this very inspirational program wear their caps and gowns to a service held at Hayward High School. On June 14, 1960 the Senior Ball was held. The Ball was held from 9:00 P.M. till 3:00 A.M. Graduation is the last high school event for a senior. On June 16, 1960 the class of 529 seniors received their diplomas. With this last event the high school career becomes a wonderful memory.

Student Government

Activities at Hayward High center around student government. From the first moment you are a freshman you are taught the importance of exercising your right to vote and the importance of voting intelligently. Student Government offers many thresholds for the active student—Boys' and Girls' League, Student Court, Legislative Assembly, Rally Committee, Service Committee, several varieties of clubs, music, art, business, drama, and many phases of social life activities.

The Class of "61" started out in a whirl of excitement to begin a tremendous year making the traditional Downtown Rally a big success. The theme of the junior float was "Stampede the Spartans" and the yell leaders and song girls were dressed in the junior colors of red and white. With their great spirit and determination the junior class missed winning the Rally by a narrow margin. Under the leadership of President Margie Curry the junior class has been successful in everything they have done this fall.

Sophomore Class

Just another year ahead toward 1962, the sophomore class whirled into a busy routine of school and social activities. Under the guidance of President Julie Smith, class officers, and the fall class council, they made a great showing at Downtown Rally. They built a terrific float, the theme of which was "Stormy Weather." Realizing that points are earned by class participation as well as a prize-winning float, the sophomores showed their tremendous class spirit. Their yell leaders and song girls, dressed in traditional colors of yellow and white, led them in competition yells during the parade and on Hanlon Field. The sophomore class is to be congratulated for its fine spirit and sportsmanship this fall.

Freshman Class

After buying a few too many elevator tickets and trying to get to class on time, the new and curious freshmen soon learned the ways of high school and joined in class competition and school activities. Although the freshmen make up the smallest class in school, with their spirit and determination, they made a fine showing at Downtown Rally. The theme of their float was "Sack the Spartans."

The Class of '63" elected one set of officers for the entire year. Led by their president, Terry McCarthy, class activities became more important and took on a new meaning to these underclassmen. The freshman class is eagerly looking forward to a bigger and even better sophomore year.

Fall Executive Council

Executive Council is the main governing body in Student Government. The Council consists of the Student Body president, secretary, treasurer, Girls' League president, Boys' League president, class presidents, head yell-leader, Legislative Assembly speaker, boys' athletic manager, head judge of Student Court and the presidents of all other student body organizations.

Fall Legislative Assembly

Legislative Assembly is the branch of our government which represents the students' voice in the government. The Assembly consists of ten members from each class. When problems arise concerning the general welfare of the student body, they are turned over to Legislative Assembly. The Assembly discusses the problem and then comes to a general decision which usually satisfies everyone.

Fall Girls' League

The purpose of Girls' League is to unite all girls in the student body by a feeling of togetherness, to teach them how to work and get along better together, and to direct social activities and functions. Every girl in school is a member of Girls' League and is given a chance to earn a Girls' League pin. Girls' League sponsored many entertaining activities this fall: The Hello Dance, The Big Sister Tea, and the Fashion Show with its theme of Holiday Wrappings. Serving as president this fall was Carol Fowler.

Fall Boys' League

Boys' League is a male organization with the purpose of promoting fellowship among the boys of our school. The Boys' League Council consists of a president who is elected by the male members of the student body, and representatives from each of the four classes along with those who may be appointed by the president. Boys' League sponsored several activities which proved to be helpful and entertaining to the student body. Among them were: the Awards Assembly and a donut sale. The Boys' League president this fall was Bryan Dettman.

Service Committee

Service Committee is an organization which serves the school in many ways. It is composed of about sixty students from all four classes. They supervise admission at school functions, such as basketball and football games, taking tickets and checking student body cards. In December they presented their annual date dance with the Foreign Exchange Committee, the proceeds going to the Foreign Exchange fund. Freshmen and sophomores can join lower division Service Committee and then go into upper division when they are juniors and seniors. The president this fall was Arline Little.

Student Control

Student Control is a student organization whose main purpose is to enforce the traffic laws on the school grounds at Hayward High. Student Control controls the students; it issues citations to any students violating school rules. The students are then ordered to report to Student Court where the final decision is made as to whether or not the person is guilty and the type of punishment he deserves. This group, being disbanded because of previous lack of student interest, has just been re-organized and is now functioning under the leadership of the student body head judge and adviser, Bob Regier.

Rally Committee

Rally Committee is a group of junior and senior boys who keep order at all of the sports events and other school activities. They provide the entertainment at noon rallies and welcome visiting teams and students. Rally Committee members can be easily identified by the large black and gold hats which have become a traditional symbol of the group. Under the guidance of their advisers, Robert Tong and Herb Brodahl, this organization has done a fine job.

Reception Committee

Reception Committee is a group of freshmen and sophomore boys who make up the lower division of Rally Committee. Reception Committee works with Rally Committee in keeping order at school games, noon activities, and rallies. Under the leadership of its fine presidents, this committee has proven to be an important and rewarding addition to our school. The president this year was Bill Williams.

England

As an exchange teacher, Mr. Irving taught art in England last year. Following is his report:

"This year in London at St. Joseph's Academy was a very exciting and rewarding experience for each member of the family. Mrs. Irving taught in a modern secondary school for girls in Bethnal Green, quite close to where we lived. Our two boys, Jim and Bob, were very fortunate to be at Colfes Grammar School which had been granted its charter back in 1554 by Queen Elizabeth the first.

St. Joseph's Academy is a Catholic school for about four hundred and thirty boys whose ages are from twelve to nineteen. Religion is compulsory in England in all schools each day, which seemed quite normal after one became accustomed to this difference. If the student plans to drop school (leaving age is fifteen) and work in a bank or insurance office he must pass at least five subjects. Certainly these students with their background of languages, science, math, and history from the age of twelve on have a much better education in depth and perception than their counterparts in the United States. Our students, however, can get along better with each other and have more awareness and sense of self discipline, which is lacking in most English students."

The Student Foreign Exchange Committee is made up of six juniors and seniors who are interviewed and selected by Executive Council. The purpose of this group is to pick the host family for our exchange student and to raise the money necessary for this project. This committee is sponsored by the whole student body and many clubs donate money to the fund. This is their way of assisting and voicing their approval. This year the committee was led by Christine Anderson.

creates good will abroad

Japan

Judy Norberg, chosen as Hayward's representative in student exchange, reports:

"As Hayward High's representative of the American Field Service, I was most fortunate in being sent to Kyoto, Japan. I left May 29th from Oakland, flew to Seattle and lived on board a Japanese liner for the two week voyage to Japan. In Kyoto, the cultural and religious capital, I lived with the Tameyoshi Arakawa family. I was truly welcome and felt very much at home during my two months' stay with the family. Adjustment spelled itself with large letters as I learned how to manipulate chopsticks, sleep on "futon," get used to raw fish and wear a Japanese "geta" comfortably. With the help and interest of my wonderful family, my summer far surpassed all my expectations. The three months passed quickly and in August I had to bid "sayonara" to my Japanese friends and family that I knew so well. I arrived home once again on September 8. This past summer became a pleasant experience of new and amusing incidents as I met the Japanese people as they really are. I am confident that the student exchange program is a promising solution to world understanding. Thank you very much, Hayward High, for this once-in-a-lifetime experience."

Judy Norberg

France

Jean Colson came to Hayward from the small village of Vénéjan.

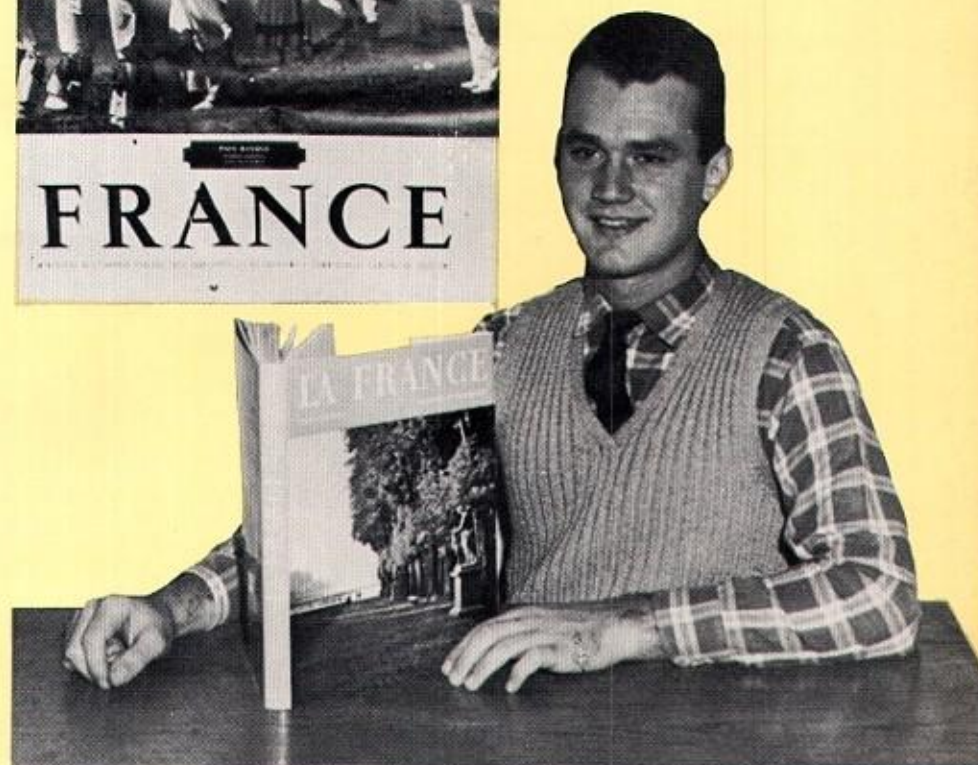

"Hayward High School has once more shown the true enthusiasm and the responsibility its students and its administration have in regard of any organization that deserves it. Hayward High has permitted this year, the American Field Service to continue its wonderful expansion, like the years before. I would like, as an exchange student, to perpetuate the meaning of peace and understanding A.F.S. stands for and is proud of. A.F.S. is a family and all its members keep together in a close contact after the opportunity they have had to know the people of the United States with their customs and their way of life. And when they go back to their countries they understand a lot more, considering that in most of the cases to know is almost to understand. This year I too had that wonderful opportunity as I left France to come to Hayward. Hence, I want to thank with simplicity but sincerity my foster family, Paul Eddy and his parents, and all the students and the administration of Hayward High.

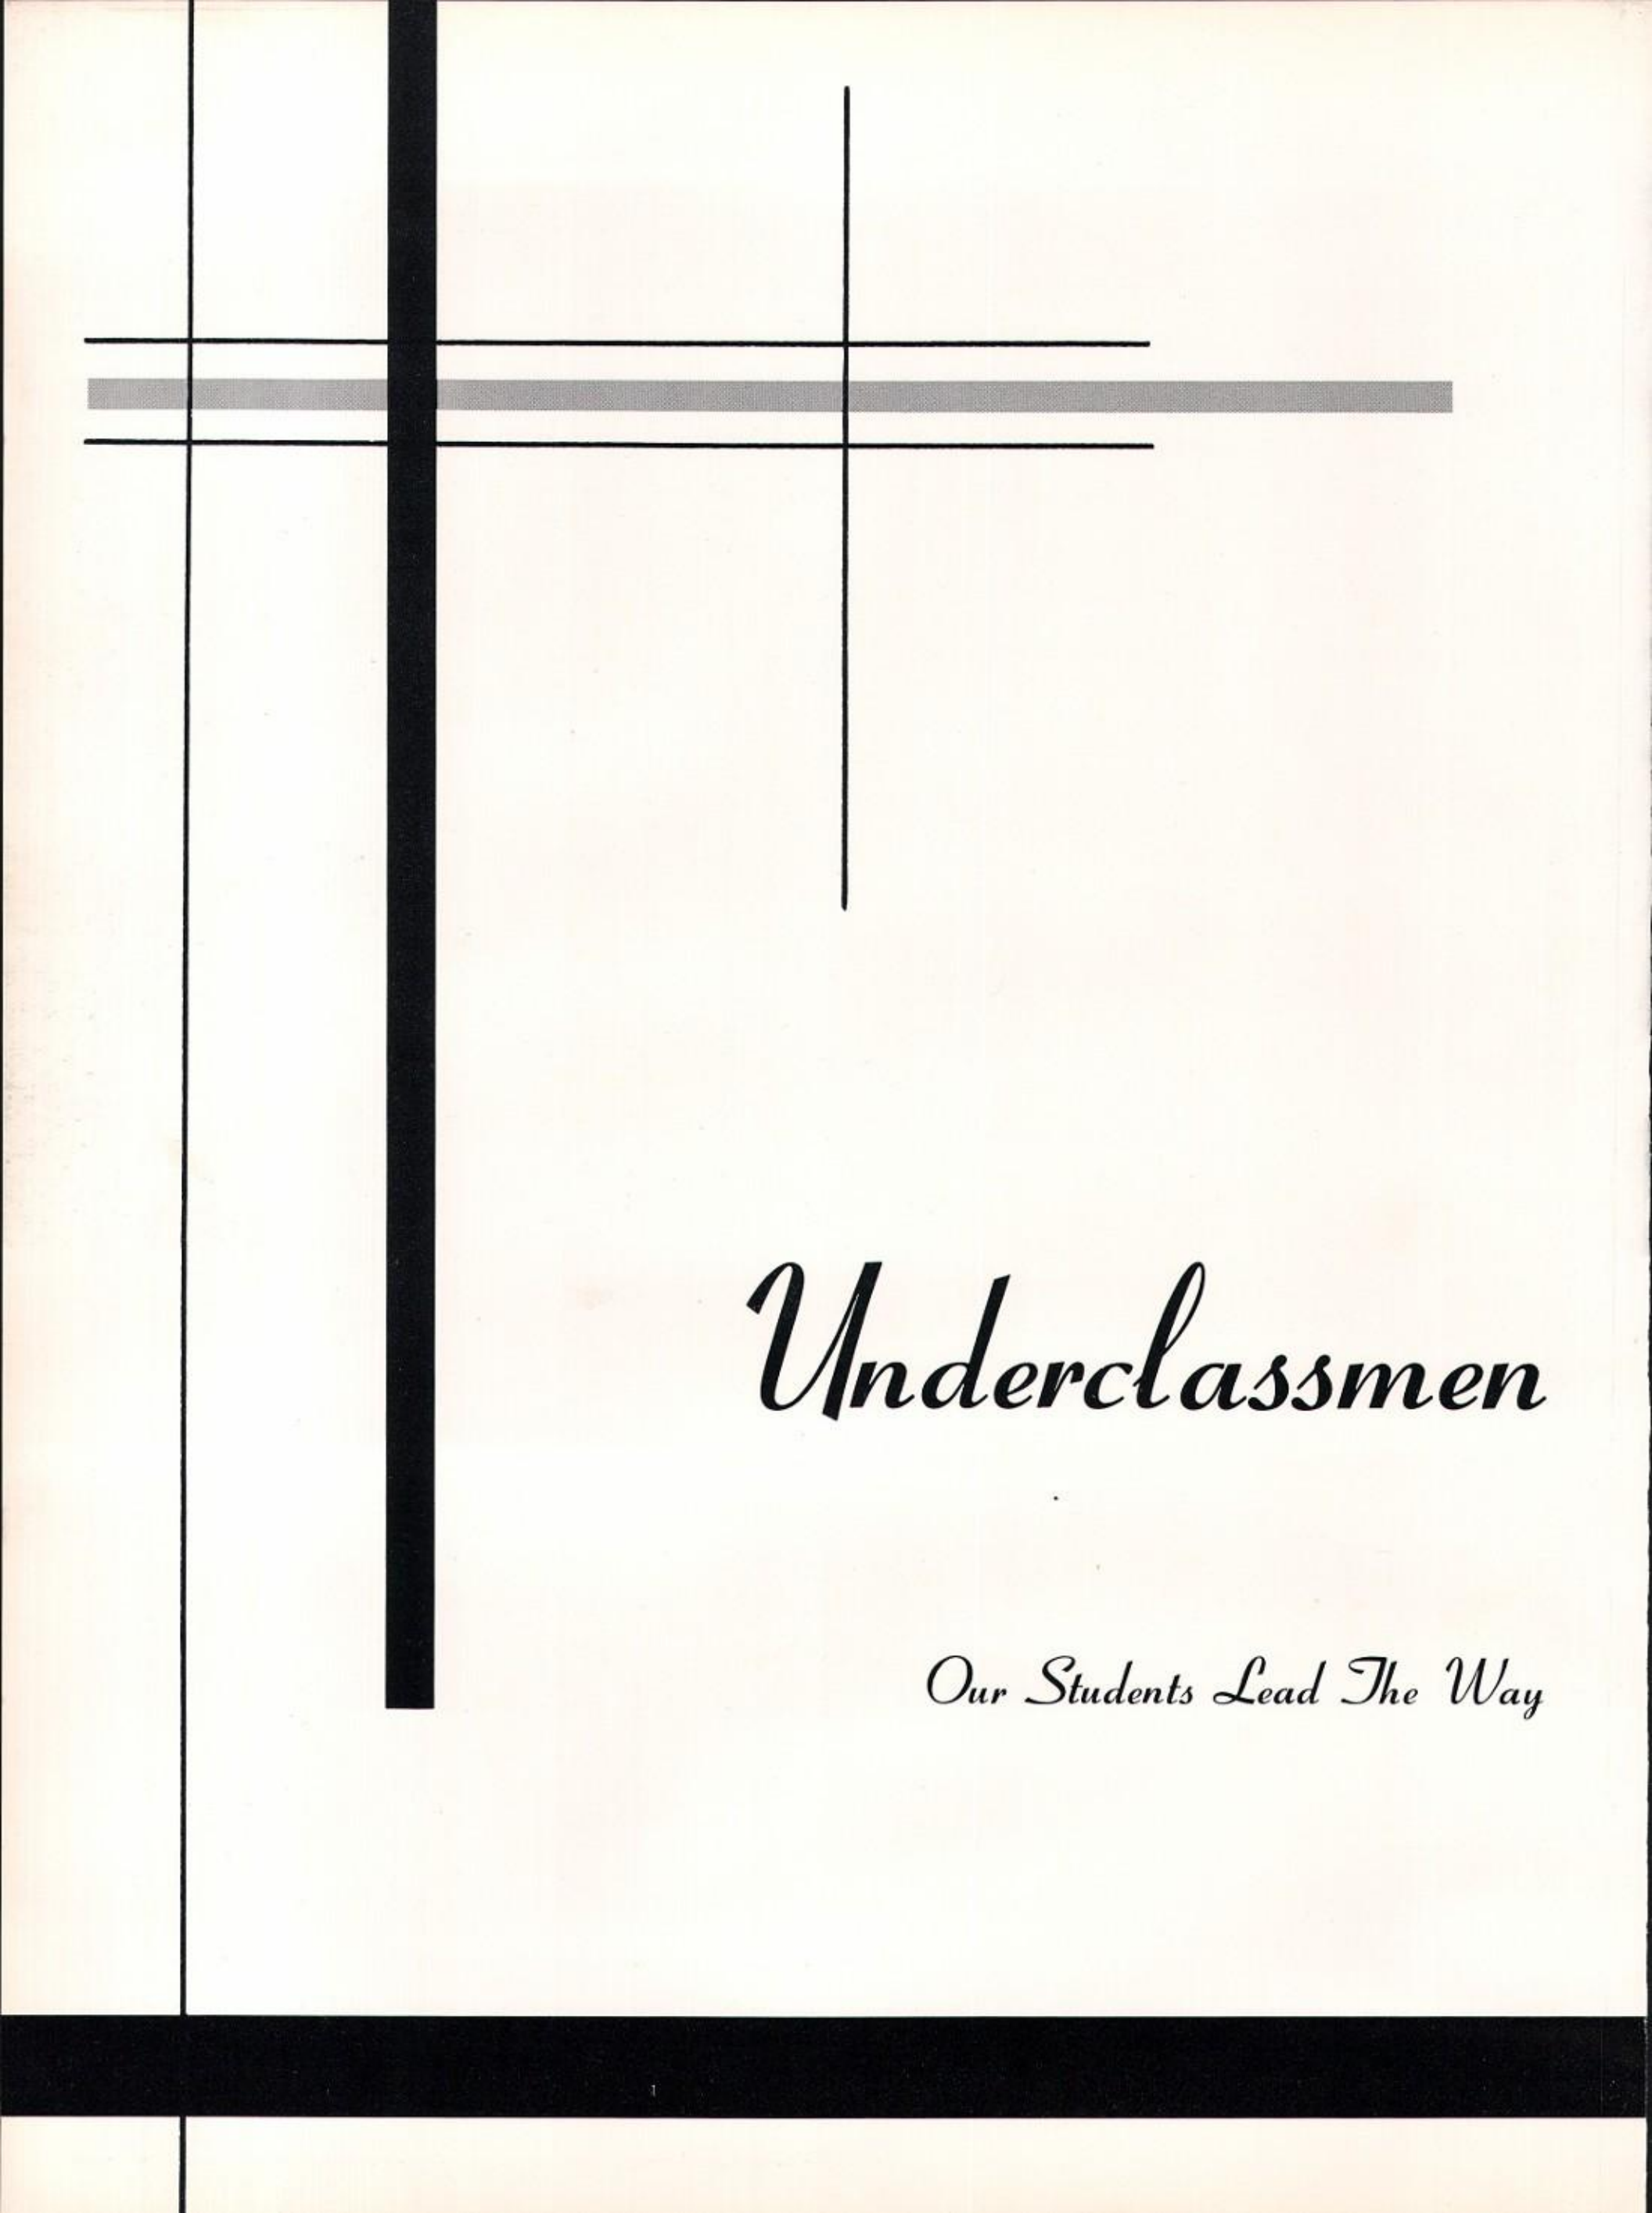

I will always remember of this year; it is for me part of these great events that offer a life forever. I hope that for the next years, students from the world and from Hayward will continue to make exchanges for the best understanding between men."

Underclassmen

Our Students Lead The Way

Hayward's students support their teams one hundred percent.

Furthering their goal toward higher education, joining in the fun of group activities, sponsoring clean-up and election campaigns, underclassmen paved the PATHWAY for spirited student life at Hayward High School.

The school year 1959-60 presented quite a challenge to the largest class (610) in the school, the eager "let's get on with it" junior class. Elected to guide them during the fall term, President Margie Curry and Vice-president Edie Vargas planned a successful clean-up campaign keeping the lunch areas about the campus free of papers and garbage. The outstanding fall event was the Downtown Rally and the class of 1961 worked frantically to beat the usually unbeatable senior class. Since the big game this year was with Castro Valley, the class chose the theme "Stampede the Spartans" and built a float showing two horses ridden by a mighty farmer stampeding a Spartan between the goal posts. Class colors of red and white were used both in the float and in the costumes of the cleverly garbed song girls and yell leaders. Despite a great show of spirit and a large turn-out, the juniors lost to the usually favored senior class. Fall activities came to a close with a successful donut sale held during a weekly snack period. Soon campaign posters began to fly and the juniors once more exercised their right to vote.

acts big--is Big!

Chosen to lead the class in the spring term, President Edie Vargas and Vice-president Rita Welburn presided over weekly class council meetings held in room 46 and led the class to close their last year as "under" classmen with a bang. The annual Sadie Hawkins dance presented this year in March, was its usual success. There is something special about this dance because the girls ask the boys, make him a shirt to match her dress, and pay for the evening of fun. Highlighting the spring semester was the first formal dance of the year, the traditional Junior Prom, given for the juniors by the senior class. This year the theme "Arabian Nights" transformed the boys' gym into an Arabian city complete with murals of caravans, oases, and a genie poured out of a golden lamp. The juniors thanked the seniors for this fabulous evening by presenting the Senior Ball on June 14th. Here the seniors were entertained by a name band and served a buffet supper at midnight. The pathway to memories leading the juniors through this school year will long be a cherished one.

"Arabian Nights" is fabulous Junior Prom

Marla Hutchings and Margaret Harwood serving to Gail Schneider and Diane McIntosh and their dates.

The wonderful night of January 15th—a night out of the pages of a fairy tale—was the spectacular Junior Prom "Arabian Nights." Presented by the senior class for the juniors, the first formal dance of the year was a thrilling one. Classmates danced to the music of Gordon Heche and his seven-piece band under a ceiling of stars and for many, memories still linger on.

Exchange Pupils Convey Experiences

Jean Tells Of French Life

"If someone from a French town, please bring a book to me," says Jean Philippe Colson, Hayward High exchange student from France.

This request was made by Jean as he experienced the thrill of an American high school. He had just been elected to the position of student body president.

Jean, born in Paris, is living with his adopted family, the Colsons, and his family.

FRENCH LIFE

In France, however, Jean lives with his parents on their farm, La Vieille. Consisting of more than 100 acres, the farm contains many acres of vineyards and crops of various kinds.

Jean's mother is the main source of his knowledge of the French people. In France, Jean's father works in a factory. His mother, Marie, is a housewife.

During the last year, Jean has been studying in the French school in Paris. As a student here for some years he will study in political science and law. After graduation he hopes to gain a higher education by attending the Sorbonne School of Agriculture.

PARISIAN

For Jean, the life of Paris is not different from that of his own. He also enjoys visiting Paris. He has been to the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre, and the Champs-Élysées. He has also been to the French Riviera and the French Alps.

Jean finds American students a lot different than those in France. "We don't have any French," he explained. "In France, there are many French."

It will take while for Jean to get acquainted with the American school, but in France, he is not alone. He has many friends, and he is not alone.

As for school itself, Jean is sure to be very happy in school, where he has many friends, and he is not alone.

Judy Relates Japan Visit

Japanese life has become more familiar to Hayward High School students through talking to senior Judy Hoberg, foreign exchange student in Japan last summer.

Judy embarked on her first trip abroad the Hoberg family, May 29. Unfortunately, her room, shared with her sister, had the kitchen on one side and the bedroom on the other. Besides the room being "cluttered," Judy experienced a typhoon and three storms during the voyage.

MEETS FAMILY

Upon arriving in Kyoto, Japan, Judy met her Japanese family, the Akabara. She became acquainted with her two "sisters," Akiko and Sachiko, and her brother, Masahiro.

The Akabara home, situated in the middle of the city, consists of 15 rooms. Judy noticed that one very striking rule is the removal of one's shoes before entering a Japanese house.

LEARNERS ALL

The problem of conversation was solved, for fortunately Judy's "mother" and "father" spoke English quite well. In conversing with Mrs. Akabara, Judy used a dictionary. However, as time went on she could carry on a conversation with her "mother" and understood the language fairly well.

As one of her "sisters," aged 15, Judy made frequent visits to the school. They kept her busy talking to the English Speaking Society of the school.

STUDY SCHEDULE

During making speeches at the Lotus Club and writing magazine articles, her weeks were also filled up with a flower arranging class twice a week.

In Kyoto, the cultural and religious center of Japan, are 1000 Buddhist temples and 300 Shinto shrines. Judy visited many of these temples, finding much to her surprise, an admission of 30 cents is charged.

Judy had forewarned to her "family" August 8. At this time she found 13 other American Field Service students on a two week tour of northern Japan.

She finds sincerely that "The people in Japan are so kind and gracious."

Some, when Judy is still a very busy girl. "I have so many things I want to do that I don't have time for hobbies." This is evidenced by her participation in C.S.F. Service, membership in Foreign Exchange Commission and otherwise, this blue-eyed girl can have an average.

Agrarian Staff Plans More Colorful, Larger Yearbook; Sets 'Picture Day'

This year's Agrarian staff reports it will have a new staff, more pages, more color pictures and more additions to the yearbook section for the yearbook this year.

On October 26, the day before report cards come out, a special day called "Picture Day" will be held. On this day all pictures to be in the yearbook, classes, organizations, etc., will be taken. Students and faculty will be notified what time and where pictures are to be taken.

Sophomores listen attentively to their class president.

The Sophomores did a terrific job in the competition for Downtown Rally. Yell Leaders and Song Girls wore the traditional colors of yellow and white. The theme "Stormy Weather" was carried out in the costumes, skit, and song. The tune to the song was "Anchors Aweigh" and the words had these catchy lyrics: "We're the class of '62, the best by far. We're going to win the rally, and show others who we are. We'll sink that Spartan ship, down, down, down, down. And when our lightning strikes, we'll prove that we're the best class around."

The float was a big ship symbolizing a Spartan with a black cloud over it as Hayward. Lightning was striking the ship. The float was made by many Sophomores at President Julie Smith's house.

Sophomores

Mr. Thornton Period 6

ROW ONE, (L. to R.): E. Curtis, E. Prieto, D. Elola, C. Hazen, D. Royce, D. Harbour, K. Gordon. ROW TWO: G. Mankins, N. King, D. Torres, R. Peterson, M. Nelson, S. Burkhart, M. Burrows, P. Gordon. ROW THREE: L. Alley, K. Renshaw, L. Dunbabin, V. Page, D. Gillette, P. Grant, J. Rivera, K. Biby. ROW FOUR: R. Rivers, M. Machado, K. Thwing, S. Poore, R. Lewis, A. Perry, J. Smith, P. Catlin.

Having raised money to give to the foreign exchange program, K. Gustafson, S. Hansen, J. Jordan present Sophomore gift to Foreign Exchange Committee member J. Norberg.

Sophomores eat a hearty lunch, fourth period.

Deciding on which Class Ring they like best are, SEATED: N. Steinberg, P. Lutz, J. Sorenson. STANDING: J. Packard, L. Cowan, J. Crockett, S. Sucher.

Working to beat the Frosh during Clean-up Week are L. to R.: R. Halgreen, L. Honeycutt, and J. Barbee.

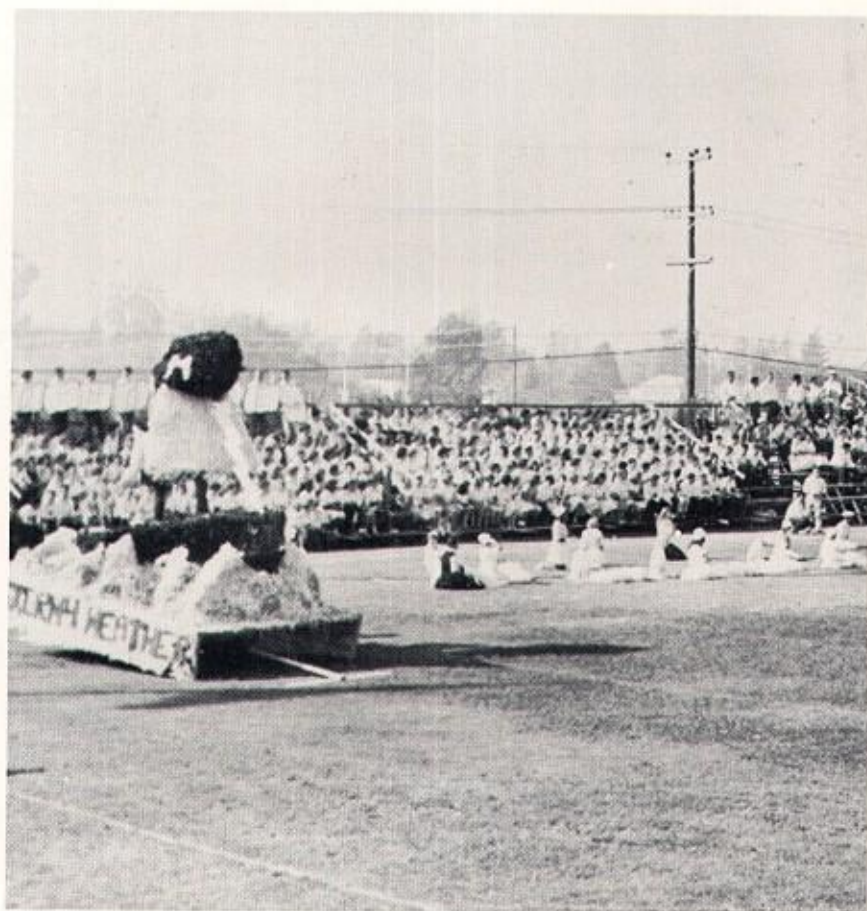

Sophomore Officers

Sophomore Activities

Starting their spring term off by presenting the first school dance of the semester, the Sophomores chose the theme "Snowball" and entertained a large crowd. The definition of a Sophomore is a "wise fool" but these Sophomores showed that they were not "wise fools" by selecting a most attractive school ring as their own. Tradition has decreed that in the Sophomore year, the class selects a class ring, choosing from four patterns presented by the Herff-Jones Company. Prices range between $15 and $21. Although ordered in the Sophomore year, students don't receive their rings until October of their Junior year. The most exciting thought in all Sophomore minds as the year drew to a close was probably, "Now I shall be an upper-classman!"

Sophomores await decision at Downtown Rally.

Sophomore advisors K. Andersen, K. Donlon and J. Eakins supervise dance decorations.

Soph Dance Committee

Small Freshman class shows leadership

The Freshman officers are: SEATED: M. Vidales, Secretary; T. McCarthy, President; V. Eastin, Vice President. STANDING: C. Ganes, Treasurer; M. Bailey, Boys' League; G. Jensen, Girls' League.

Class Council proves interesting for the Freshmen.

Although the Class of 1963 is the smallest class (298), they showed terrific spirit at Downtown Rally. The yell leaders and song girls wore the traditional freshman colors of green and white. The theme, "Sack the Spartans," was carried out in the float, skit, song, and the outfits of the yell leaders and song girls. The float was built by many freshmen at Carol Beauchamp's home. Their dance and donut sale were a tremendous success, not to mention their clean-up campaign which was also outstanding.

The Freshman Class elects their class officers for the entire year. This year the freshmen elected Terry McCarthy to lead them through an outstanding year.

Memories of dances, games, rallies, and exciting days were caught, photographed, and related into special words to take you along a pathway of memories.

"Accuracy, interests, and good writing" is a familiar slogan for the Haypress staff. The staff met the usual problems of deadlines, source stories, headlines, typographical errors, faults of the "iron monster" (the press) and more deadlines, but in spite of all this, the Student Body received the paper every Wednesday. The staff consists of an editor, advertising manager, business manager, circulation manager, page editors, and reporters.

The Haypress is a tradition that was started at Hayward in 1926.

Every other Tuesday F.T.A. met with their advisers, Dorothy Buckley, Enis Longnecker, and Ray Mahannah to combine a business meeting with social activities. After much planning, they held their annual banquet in December. F.T.A. helps students to develop interest in the field of teaching.

Rifle Club

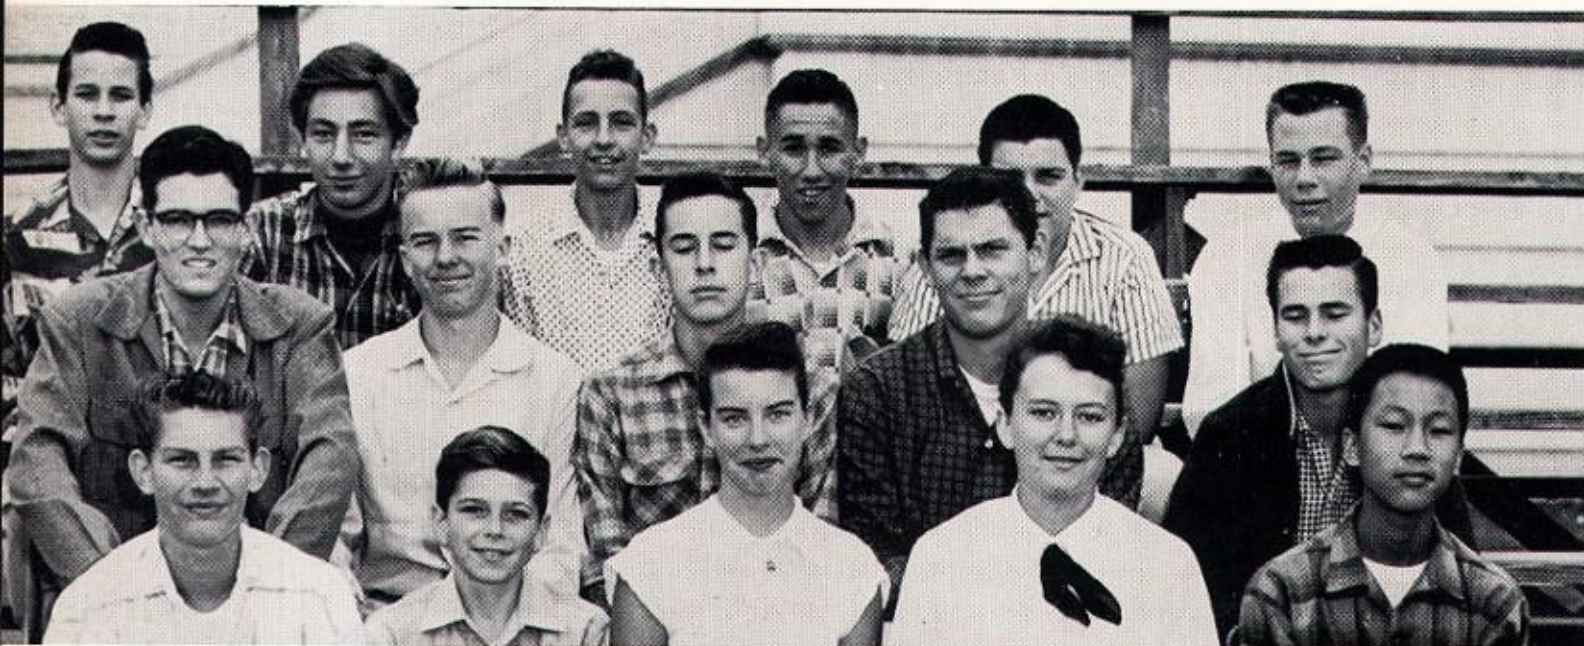

Rifle Club is formed primarily to produce a co-ed rifle team at Hayward High School. To attain this objective we follow as a guide the information in the instructor's manual issued by the National Rifle Association. This includes a study of the safe use of the rifle, skill and accuracy in the shooting of the rifle, and progress through the qualifications set up by the National Rifle Association. Brad Hanna is the club adviser.

Chess Club meets with the idea of promoting interest, developing winners and teaching the fundamentals of Chess. This organization is capably advised by Marsh Pitman.

The students who enroll as members of the Future Business Leaders of America dedicate their time to becoming acquainted with the business world and the future development of employee-employer relationships. Future Business Leaders of America is capably directed by Patrick Butler. The members also learn to develop competent, aggressive business leadership and to strengthen their confidence in themselves and their work. To further this they offer a scholarship to an outstanding senior in their club.

The purpose of the Biology Club is to promote interest in living things. It also provides a chance for students to learn about the different fields of biology, occupations open to those interested in biology, and scholarships available to students in biology and related fields. The club is led under the capable guidance of Marsh Pitman.

The purpose of Lamplighters is to widen the interest and knowledge of the student to all health services which are found in a community and also to prepare the student to meet the requirements for specialized education through experiences in the health field of his choice.

Hayward High's Junior Red Cross of 1959-60 played an important role when its members expressed their Christmas spirit by visiting the elderly patients at Fairmont Hospital on December 8. Taking small gifts and talking with the patients made these students feel the true spirit of Christmas. This activity was only one of the many in which the students participated. The council also had a children's book drive, gathering books for the many unfortunate children in hospital wards. In March the annual Junior Red Cross Roll Call was held and enabled the club to plan special Easter entertainment for hospitalized children. The group was capably led and advised by Marion Jenks, adviser and president, Bonnie Bandy.

Radio Club is an organization open to all students interested in radio and learning to become amateur radio operators. The students in this organization learn code and many more intricacies of operating a radio. The knowledge they learn from this club may help them to attain their own amateur station in the future. They are under the direction of Clarence Nelson.

Key club has proven itself to be one of the most successful clubs at Hayward High. Key Club contributes money to the library for vocational materials and to the foreign exchange program. They published and distributed schedules of football, basketball, swimming and track. Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Hayward.

California Scholarship Federation

Being a member of the California Scholarship Federation is an honor and advantage for a Hayward High student. It is an even greater honor for a student to attain a lifetime membership. Scholarships for colleges and universities in California and the East are available to those members who have held a ten grade point average in CSF for seven semesters.

The Distributive Education Leaders was organized to publicize the Work Experience program. Our merchants help these students to gain work experience. Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America is a National Education organization for boys interested in Agricultural careers. The purposes of the F.F.A. is to encourage boys interested in agriculture and to help them prepare for the vocation of their choice. The student is helped to make his decisions for his choice by participating in chapter activities. Many members gain experience in livestock and plant production through cooperative chapter projects conducted on the forty-three acre school farm laboratory and on home projects. Judging contests that the chapter members compete in help them develop skills in selecting quality crop products and livestock. Three judging contests are annual chapter events. The University of California at Davis, California State Fair, and Alameda County Fair. Drama and music pave the Pathway

S. Jacques seems to be getting the worst of it as R. Brandon beats her in Thursday night's performance.

An eleven piece orchestra appeared on stage as an extra touch.

Doctor In Spite Of Himself

Joseph Sibilia
Director

Starting off this year's drama season was the French farce "THE DOCTOR IN SPITE OF HIMSELF" under the able direction of Joseph Sibilia and student director Lynette Goularte.

The three-act comedy takes place in France during the late 1600's. It tells the story of a woodcutter named Sganarella who is beaten into saying he is a doctor. He has many victims of his false medical profession.

To add an extra touch to the play an eleven-piece orchestra appeared on stage in authentic costumes of the times. A fine job of construction was done by Douglas Morrisson's stage craft classes and the beautiful costumes were designed and made by Joseph Sibilia's costume and design classes.

This year the famous tragedy, Romeo and Juliet, under the imaginative direction of George Wilson was given a unique look. The cast was clad in frontier-type western dress artfully created by Costume-Design classes. The opening scene took place on a prairie and the "grand ballroom" scene was a barn dance. Strange? Not really. The western background only proved that Shakespeare's plays can be performed in any setting because of the universal quality of the writing.

The Nativity

Our traditional Christmas program

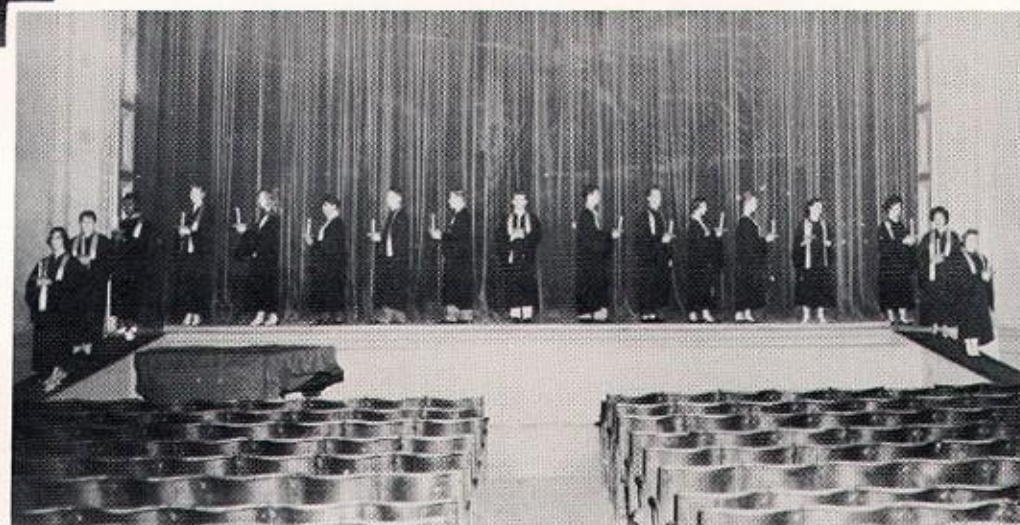

The Yule spirit prevailed as the tenth annual "Nativity" was presented to the community and students by the Fine Arts department of Hayward High. The birth of Christ has been dramatized in "The Nativity" since its first appearance in 1949. The first recorded account of the special Christmas performance was in 1927. In 1930 the P.T.A. joined in and the program consisted primarily of the singing of Christmas carols. In 1943 the trend went to community participation. In 1947 and '48 the story of "Herodes" was the narrative, supported by the Choir and Orchestra. A double cast is employed, with one group performing each night. The Choir under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Henry and the Orchestra directed by Edward Krenz supplied appropriate music for the occasion.

The entire cast in the final scene of "The Nativity."

E. McBain and L. Carrabello as Mary and Joseph in Thursday night's performance.

The A cappella choir practices recession while singing "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Cast

Included in cast were: Loretta Carrabello, Ed McBain, Pat Mitchell, Nancy Sparks, Carl MacIntyre, Rosanne Brown, Trina Phister, Jerry Berry, Ray Brandon, Gary Dunbar, Chris Notley, Tony Rafeal, Roy Dahle, Dennis Pearson.

Alice in Wonderland

A fine presentation of the classic fairy tale "Alice in Wonderland" was given by the Children's Theater this year. The attractive and appropriate costumes were created by Joseph Sibilia's costume design classes. Lending a dramatic touch to the play was the scenery, specially handled by Douglas Morrisson's class and consisting of mobile playing cards. Outstanding as Alice, Joanne Mitchell turned in a superior performance while Janet Dotson, as the White Rabbit, amused the younger set in the audience by running down the aisle shrieking "It's late." The Dutchess (Sharon Richards) and her pepperade had everyone sneezing while the Queen of Hearts (Sue Jacques) shouted "off with their heads!" Amusing as the Chessy-puss was Neftali Chamorro. Most creditable performance was Toni Bettencourt's Mock Turtle. Credit for this excellent and popular production goes to Joseph Sibilia, director.

Orchestra Provides Musical Background

Edward Krenz
Director

Soloists Pat Thornton, Bill Rusconi, Bruce Haines.

Soloists Fred Biesser, Joe Linn, Darryl Goletto.

The orchestra gained prominence in many fine performances this year under the competent direction of Edward Krenz. Besides playing in the annual Christmas program and providing appropriate music for all the plays, they did something much out of the ordinary at the beginning of the year when they played on stage as part of the cast in "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," our first production. February 26 they put on a concert in conjunction with the band. They participated in the Band-Orchestra dance in April, the Spring Concert in May, and played in Hayward's 70th commencement June 17th. They received the honor of being asked to play for the first commencement exercises of the newly organized Alameda County State College.

All the world loves a singer and if you have attended any of our fine musical programs, you have heard the best — the A Cappella Choir. When not performing, the choir is feverishly rehearsing for the Christmas Festival, Spring Concert, or assemblies. Last year the choir was approximately 80 voices strong. This year due to decreased enrollment in the district, the choir has been cut to 40 voices but this doesn't affect their fine singing. Something new was added this year when the choir traveled to the elementary schools in the district and presented a program to acquaint incoming freshmen with the music department.

The choir practices for one of their numerous presentations.

The new Straw Hat band performed for the student body at the night football games and also appeared in the annual Veteran's Day Parade. Other activities included an appearance in the annual Band Day at University of California Music Festival, presentation of a Band Concert, and an annual trip to the grammar schools in this area.

Stagecraft and Costume Design

Backbone of every successful play

Constituting the backbone of most successful plays are the members of the stagecraft crew. These obscure heroes of the Fine Arts Area, under the instruction of Douglas Morrisson, construct the stage settings for every presentation of the Fine Arts Area. In this class, which is taught first and second periods in room 55, the students select, build, and paint, the stage settings for the various plays. Special sets created by this year's stagecraft classes were for The Doctor in Spite of Himself, Romeo and Juliet, and Alice in Wonderland.

R. Valin, G. Sousa, B. Fitzpatrick, J. Cook prepare a flat while J. Mahler watches.

S. Jameson and G. Nash mix paint in prop room.

Douglas Morrisson

Joseph Sibilia

Working on costumes for Alice in Wonderland are, (L. to R.): Alice Mork, Michelle Boulter, D. Devronne, and N. Chamorro.

T. Rafael, A. Mork, T. Esquilin, J. Thompson rummage through wardrobe supplies for costume ideas.

Working behind the scenes of many a successful play is the costume and design class. Under the instruction of Joseph Sibilia, this particular class designs and makes the costumes for every Hayward High play. First the period of the play is determined; then the clothing styles from that period are put down on paper. Patterns of the various costumes are then made and fitted to the actors and actresses. The class, taught in room 73 sixth and seventh periods, created the appropriate attire for The Doctor in Spite of Himself, Romeo and Juliet, and Alice in Wonderland this year. The success of each play depends much on the hard working members of this class.

An abstract geometric design featuring a light cream-colored background. A thick black vertical line runs down the left side. A thin black vertical line runs down the right side. A thin black horizontal line runs across the top. A thick grey horizontal line runs across the middle. A thin black horizontal line runs across the bottom. The lines intersect to form a grid-like structure.

Sports Review

Our Athletes Lead The Way

R. Rollins, D. Woznick, B. Lewis struggle for possession of ball at Hayward's Invitational Tournament.

Striving for top physical conditioning, practicing long hours in the gym and on the field, showing good sportsmanship at all activities, our athletes paved the PATHWAY for exciting student life at Hayward High School.

Top-Flight Song Girls

Fall

Hard-working FALL student body yell leaders and song girls never tire of keeping Hayward's spirit high. The girls perform at year-round varsity sports activities to encourage spirit among the student body. Before games they usually create noon rallies to promote interest. Led by Rosalind Turner and Janice Aho our peppy yell leaders and song girls helped to spur our team on to victory at the football, basketball, and other games. Their clever, colorful uniforms were additional highlights of Hayward's sports events.

Activities

Peppy Yell Leaders

Our FALL yell leaders aroused the enthusiasm of the students with their "Fight, team fight!" To encourage new yells and songs and to keep the practice of older yells and songs up-to-date they held Megaphone Club meetings. The skillful song girls and yell leaders also participated in the Downtown Rally and other public displays. These girls maintained a B-average and if they plan to be head song girl or head yell leader they must receive a B-average.

Downtown

Seniors form straight lines parading through streets.

Winning the Downtown Rally with their theme, "Sting The Spartans," represented by a huge bumble bee, the Class of '60 proudly cheered the Farmer team from the 50-yard line at the Castro Valley game.

Each class showed enthusiastic competition and was graded on behavior, percentage of turnout, amount of student body cards sold, spirit, neatness of lunching area, showing class colors, originality of costumes, and competition of yells and floats.

Senior spirit comes through during competition yells.

Hopalong Hayashi hopped one too many as the Juniors went down.

The Freshmen float was outstanding for a new class at Hayward

The Junior float was very artistic and carried out the theme of "Stampede the Spartans" with two horses.

Rally Day

The Sophomores under the leadership of Julie Smith, had an outstanding float with "Stormy Weather" as their theme.

The Junior float "Stampede The Spartans," displayed two artistic horses.

The Freshmen came through with plenty of spirit, considering their class was so small. "Sack The Spartans" was their theme.

Another victory for the Senior class of '60. Here they display their joy as they are announced winners of the Downtown Rally.

"Stormy Weather" was a clever theme for the Sophomore float.

Fabulous Senior float stands out above all the rest. Simplicity got straight to the point.

Sophomore spirit is high as they strive to win the Downtown Rally.

The Freshmen class theme of "Sack The Spartans" was clearly carried out in their skit.

Downtown Rally Leaders

There are six yell leaders and eight song girls for each class on Downtown Rally Day. Among their duties are to lead and instruct their class in the cheers and to keep them in order during the parade.

Megaphone

Megaphone Club, under the leadership of student body yell leaders and song girls, meets every Wednesday after school in the Girl's Gym. Here the five Student Body yell leaders teach members the new and old yells and songs of Hayward High. Girls are urged to come and practice so that some day they may become a class yell leader or song girl or be chosen for student body yell leader or song girl. One head yell leader is elected by the Student Body. She chooses her assistants from the runners-up in the election. Only Juniors or Seniors may hold the office of student body yell leader or song girl, providing they attend each meeting of Megaphone Club for one semester, and receive a B-average.

Casaba — basketball — call it what you like but the Farmers played it! Coached by Bob McKillop, Hayward streaked through the league schedule with only one defeat, causing many opposing teams to fall apart when faced with their fast moving offense and pressing defense. With these tactics they brought to Hayward another basketball championship. As a team their accomplishments, both athletic and as sportsmen, have left an enviable and unblemished mark in the record books as a tribute to their coach and school.

Farmers Place Second In Tournament

Hayward's Basketball team receive their second-place awards from Michelle McIntyre, sports queen.

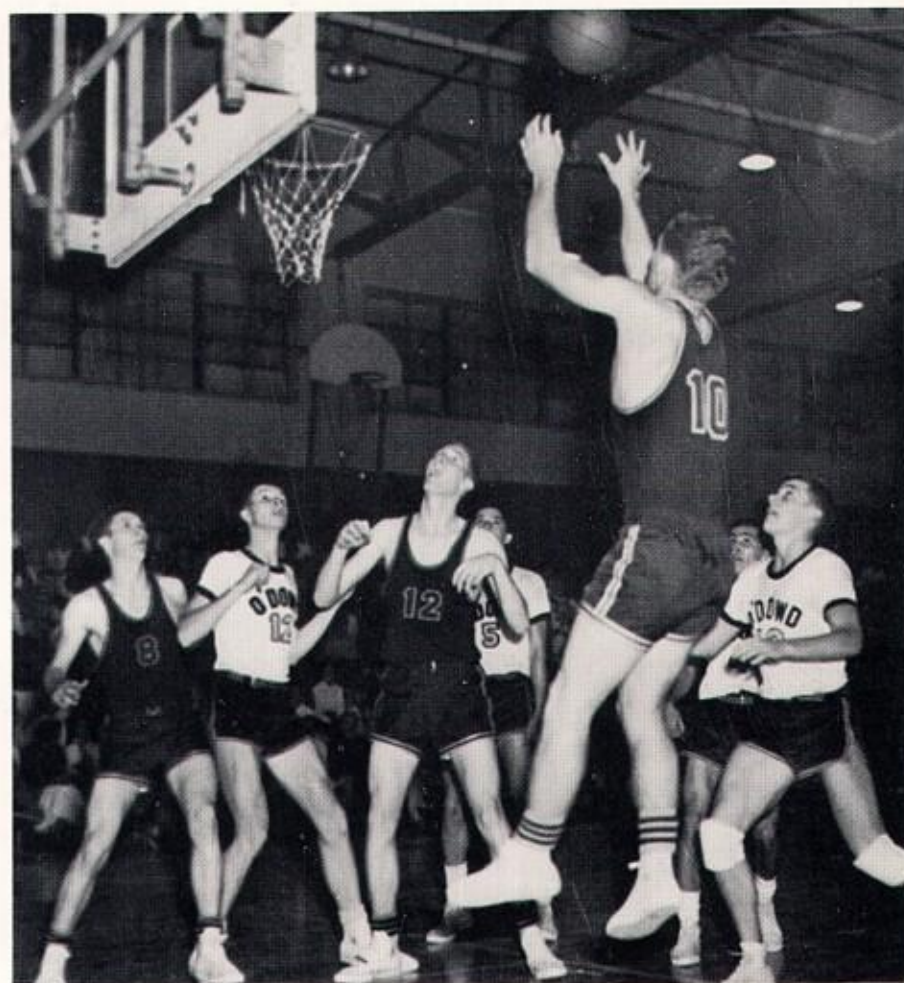

This year's Invitational Basketball Tournament provided a spectacular showing of skill and sportsmanship for the audience. This is how the scores tallied up in the first round of play on Friday afternoon. San Leandro defeated Castro Valley, Bishop O'Dowd decisively beat Pleasant Hill, Hayward trounced San Lorenzo and Tennyson beat Arroyo. In the second round of games on Friday night the losers of the first two games met with Pleasant Hill beating Castro Valley. In the next game the losers of the second two games met with the decision of Arroyo over San Lorenzo. Then the winners of the first two games played, with O'Dowd downing San Leandro. In the next game Hayward beat Tennyson. To start out the third round of games Tennyson played San Leandro for third place. The big game was played between Hayward and Bishop O'Dowd, last year's champs. The teams placed as, O'Dowd first, Hayward second, San Leandro third, Tennyson fourth, Arroyo fifth, Pleasant Hill sixth, San Lorenzo seventh, Castro Valley eighth.

Coach Vaughn Hitchcock's highly talented wrestling team turn in the finest season in Hayward's wrestling history. The Farmers' grapplers always showed fine potential and put on a great exhibition of strength and skill. With nine returning lettermen and some fine JV prospects, the Farmers were victorious in each of their 12 matches. High lighting the season were John Garcia, Charlie Krechtmann, Bob Gianotti, Jim Ferry, Tye Williford, Sam Huerta, Mike Pacheco, Max Levine, Chris Notley, and Dave Phillips.

A.C.A.L. Wrestling Champions!

This year the Hayward Grapplers were very good in tournament competition. In our Invitational Tournament we placed a strong second. Then came the Southern Alameda County tournament with Hayward coming from behind in the final to almost double their nearest opponent and finishing as the Alameda County Athletic League champions. Six matmen qualified for the North Coast Section tournament with three going on to the State meet. Hayward was eleventh out of more than one hundred schools. Our lone State champ, Sam Huerta, defeated Spencer Tomoto in the finals.

Adviser

The Block H Club of Hayward High consists of boys who have participated in a Varsity sport and earned a letter. This year the Block H Club sold candy at Basketball and Wrestling tournaments and had a donut sale in the fall semester and a dance in the spring semester. They raised money to buy the trophies which were presented to the outstanding player of every varsity sport. The spring G.A.A. council accomplished their goal of promoting more interest and enlarging the membership of G.A.A. by presenting three spring blocks of activities sparked by publicity in the daily bulletin and Haypress.

The first block was bowling held from February 25 to March 17 at Grand Lanes. The next block was badminton held from February 25 to March 17. The enrollments of the semester's blocks were amazingly high. G.A.A. offers one point for every block. A girl with one point may vote for officers or she may run for office if she has three points.

Softball

Two favorite spring sport blocks are softball and badminton. Softball, which started in May, had twenty-four participants. The girls were taught the fundamental skills and chose teams and partners to participate in tournaments. Jane Knoph was adviser.

Badminton

Badminton is an ever-popular sport and boasted twenty members battling the birdie around. This skill taught good stroke form and the importance of keeping your eye "on the bird." Beverly Albin was manager and Olga Kennedy advised.

Practicing batting skills for G.A.A. softball are from L. to R.: N. Bailey, C. Graham, S. Schaffler, L. Conley, B. Bandy, L. Trelut.

Bowling is most popular sport

Kay Ball throws the ball in G.A.A. Bowling.

Bowling and skating have always been two of the favorite sports offered by G.A.A. In bowling, as an added incentive, the two people with the best score averages win an award. An award is also given to the first, second, and third place teams. There are twenty teams in all. Both skating and bowling are coed sports.

Besides a well planned sports program, G.A.A. offered many extra activities. A Play Day at Arroyo was the first activity held in the fall semester. A Mother-Daughter Sports Night was held to promote closer mother-daughter relationships. On this night the mothers and daughters played games and then refreshments were served. In the spring there was a Leadership Conference held at Livermore High School and a conference held at the University of California for girls who were interested in becoming physical education teachers. Considering the varied activities and special events put on by G.A.A., it is not hard to understand why G.A.A. is such a popular organization.

Each year when the spring semester is about to roll around, Megaphone Club holds tryouts for those students who wish to become assistant Spring yell leaders.

By process of elimination the ten best girls are chosen. They are judged by advisers Doris Lewis and Dixie Lorenat, the head yell leader of the Fall semester, and the head song girl. They are judged individually on coordination, ability, voice, appearance, and smile. These ten girls then perform again and the best four are announced assistant yell leaders.

The head yell leader is elected by the student body. The only required qualifications for this office are regular attendance of Megaphone Club and a previous scholastic record of three B's and three C's.

The junior class elected Edith Vargas as their new president this spring. The advisers were Ed White, Lena Barry, Kalma Baren, Ann Weingart, Herman Dubowy, and Mary Calandri. In March, under the leadership of their new class council, their president, and their advisers the junior class put on the annual "Sadie Hawkins" Dance with its theme of "Sadie Gets Her Man." A money-making project of selling school pennants brought in a tidy profit. These busy juniors wound up their year by presenting the Senior Ball as a going away present to the Seniors.

Student Leaders Take Active

Girls' League

Under the leadership of President Helen Brownell, Girls' League Council has participated in several activities. In the beginning of the semester the outgoing officers were given a banquet and the incoming officers were installed. Then at an assembly, Helen Brownell awarded service pins to girls who had earned them by their contributions in Girls' League. Girls' League also sponsored an eggshell collection drive and then decorated and filled the eggshells with confetti. The Hayday dance held May 27th was sponsored by Girls' League in conjunction with Boys' League. The advisers were Kay Kennedy and Kay Anderson.

Executive Council

The main governing body in Student Government is Executive Council which consists of all student body officers, class presidents and presidents of all other student body organizations. All the members of Executive Council take part in a special Leadership Class under the supervision of Douglas Morrisson. In this class they become better acquainted with parliamentary procedures and learn how to handle school problems more efficiently. In March, both the fall and spring members of Executive Council appeared on Television on Channel 5's Dance Party in a special tribute to Hayward High. The adviser was Douglas Morrisson.

Boys' League

With Mike Moss as their spring president, Boy's League has done a great job in presenting enjoyable activities to the student body. Twice each month they sponsored a disc-jockey show with well-known radio and record personalities as emcees. At Hayday, Boy's League sponsored a car show, a popular favorite among the boys, which had been discontinued the past two years. Another popular activity was the traditional car-smashing booth. Boys' League was very busy this spring. The advisers were Garth Jaehnig and Anthony Ochoa.

Legislative Assembly

Legislative Assembly is the legislative branch of our student government. It represents the students' voice in the government. This spring Legislative Assembly has been busy discussing the problems concerning the student body. They proposed an amendment to the Constitution by which the school student mascot would be elected by the students directly. They sponsored another clean-up campaign which made our campus more attractive. Also they made the decision that 100 points were necessary for alumni cards. The head speaker this spring was Sandy Smith. The adviser was Douglas Morrison.

City Highlights

For the past five years, Hayward has had many geographical changes. New housing projects were constructed such as Tamarack Knolls, Fairway Park, El Rancho Verde, Southgate, and Palma Ceia Village. As a result, the city had an increase in population this year by 6000, making a total of 65,100. Five towns of Centerville, Mission San Jose, Niles, Irvington, and Warm Springs combined to form the city of Fremont, hoping to better the community by incorporation.

Among the many new stores which have been built are Capwell's, Sears and Macy's. Hayward "strip" has had numerous additions including J. Magin's, Milens.

Since the first Hayward High School, which was built in 1892 on Soto and B Streets, there have been countless additions of new schools expanding our education system, to meet our city's growth. San Lorenzo High School was built in 1950, and Mt. Eden in 1960. We are all looking forward to the New Hayward High School which will be located between Second Street and East Avenue in 1962. This year at Hayward High our Faculty consisted of 92 members.

The student body population for 1959-60 was 1845. The future population of Hayward High School is estimated 1725 for 1960-61.

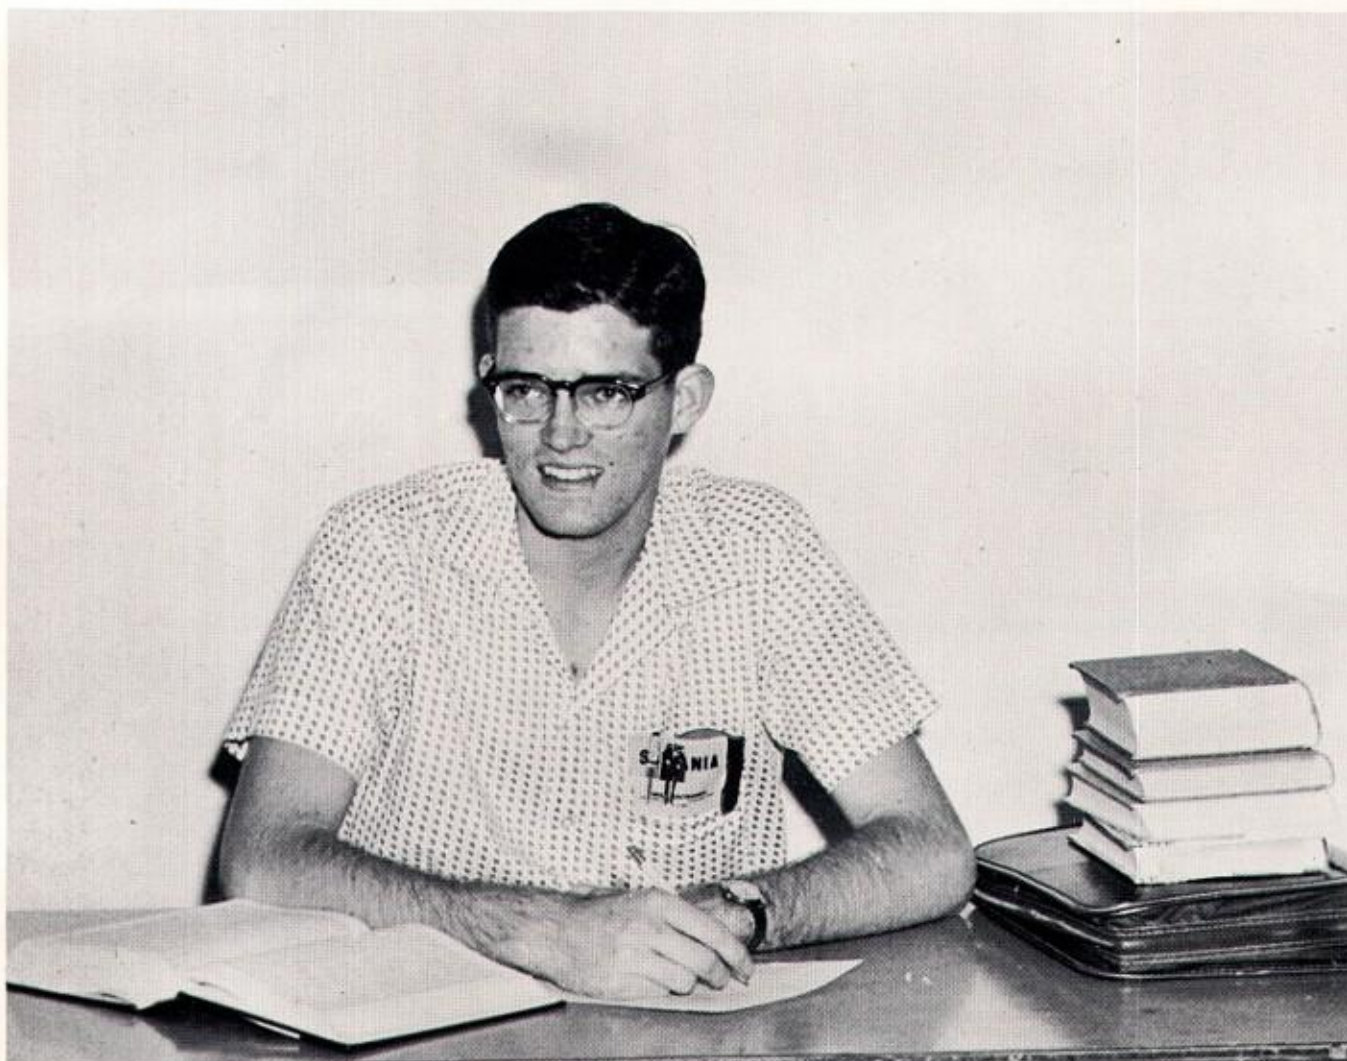

Highlights

Dances, rallies, and planned activities highlight the Pathway

Mr. Guilford's first period Sophomore Social Studies class salutes the flag, a daily routine at Hayward High.

I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag—

On every day of the school year each class begins the day with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. This is a way of showing the devotion of Hayward students to their country. Another way of showing the devotion of the students to their country is through education. A merit test is given to certain seniors which reveals the achievements of the students. The recent merit test showed that Hayward had two students who placed high in the country. They were John Burke and Dave Colman.

John Burke, a winner of the National Merit test, sits studying in his spare time.

Big Sister Tea

The Big Sister Tea is one of the first activities at Hayward High each year. It is sponsored by Girls' League and is one of the important steps of introducing Freshmen girls to the Senior girls. Each Freshman girl is given a Big Sister Senior girl who introduces them to other girls from their classes. The Big Sister Tea has entertainment and is followed by punch and cookies. It is one of the early memorable activities at Hayward.

B. Foss, C. Fowler, G. Denend, C. Enos helped prepare for the Big Sister Tea.

Back-to-School-Night

Back-to-School-Night is held so that parents of students can become acquainted with Hayward High and its teachers. On this night parents visit each class of their youngsters and are informed as to what their children are learning and how they are progressing. The Back-To-School-Night held this year showed overwhelming interest of the parents.

The exciting moment draws near as Janice Aho, right, is about to announce the winner of the Downtown Rally. L. to R.: Miss McStay, Rosalind Turner and Mr. Morrisson.

Queen Candidates, ROW ONE, L. to R.: L. Hodgson, M. Rau, J. Spencer. ROW TWO: M. McIntyre, B. Grieve, B. Seevers, C. Reading.

Basketball Tournament Queen and her attendants. L. to R.: R. Welburn, 2nd Attendant; M. McIntyre, Sports Queen; J. Rinella, 1st Attendant.

Dancing at one of the Period 4 noon dances are some freshmen and sophomores.

Dancing is our favorite pastime

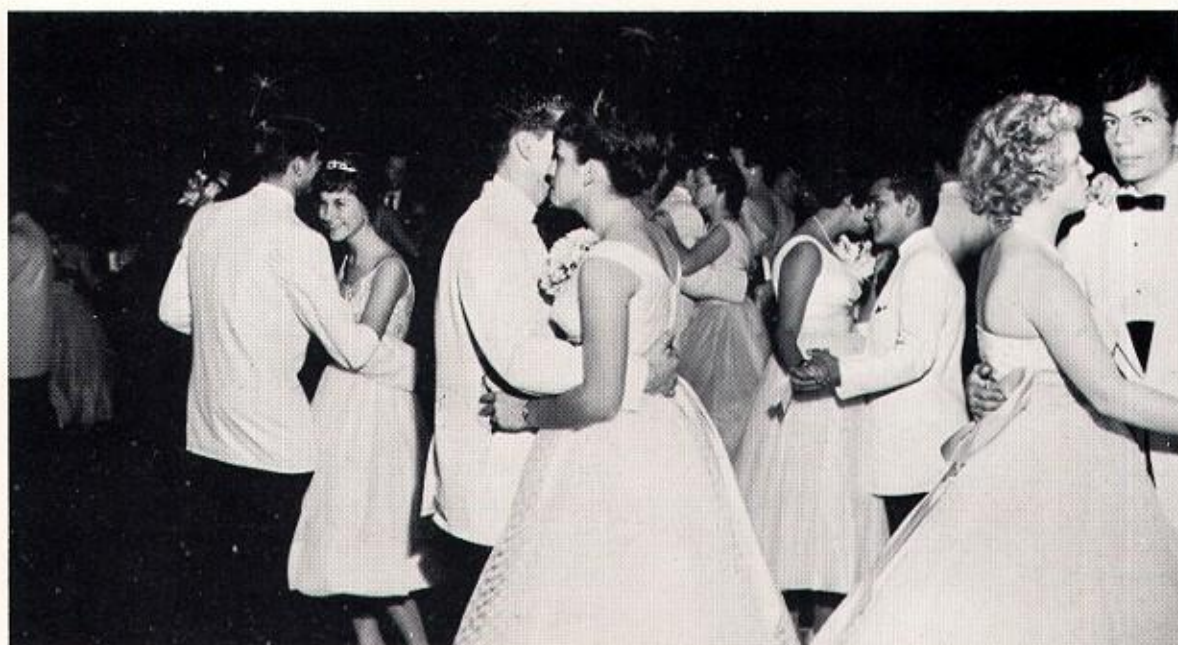

There were many noon and night dances held at Hayward this year. The Friday noon dances were sponsored by Boys' League and were held outdoors by the girls' gym. The Friday night dances were held in the boys' gym from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and were sponsored by various clubs. Everyone enthusiastically looked forward to our always successful school dances.

Carol Drapich and Dave Miller received their bids at the Junior Prom from Florence Lucero.

Dancing at the Junior Prom and having a wonderful time are Bob Walker, Joy Rosvall and others.

The Junior Prom of 1960 was held on January 15. The seniors worked hard to give the juniors an enjoyable evening. The theme was "Arabian Knights" and the gym was decorated with beautiful murals of various Arabian scenes. The couples, dancing under a ceiling of stars, seemed to enjoy themselves.

At the general assembly are, (L. to R.): J. Aho, Mrs. Jewel, Mr. Guilford, Mrs. Walker, and Mr. Oakes.

What's the latest fad?

One of the outstanding dances of the year, Sadie Hawkin's dance, is popular because of the fad for girls to ask boys for the date and then make them a shirt to match their blouses and skirts. Such fads are always popular. Two other long-lasting fads among girls this year were big purses and tennis shoes with gym socks.

B. Shulte, B. Foss and S. Raymor model the season's fad of big purses.

S. Donovan, B. Foss, and B. Thompson model one of the latest fads—tennis shoes and gym socks.

We are concerned about careers

Career Night is held every year at Hayward to acquaint the students with vocations in which they are interested. After a general assembly where the Principal greets the visitors, each person is sent to a class where a representative, who is well qualified, explains his field of work.

A speaker from Coronet of California and Miss Lee talk to a class on modeling at Career Night.

Dancing at the Sadie Hawkins Dance are (L. to R.): R. Solari, E. Sucher, R. Turner, E. Fallavena, D. Phillips, and P. Eddy.

J. Togni, left, pleads with R. Rollins to go to the Sadie Hawkins dance as Z. Garcia, back, watches.

Senior Boys seem to be "car happy"

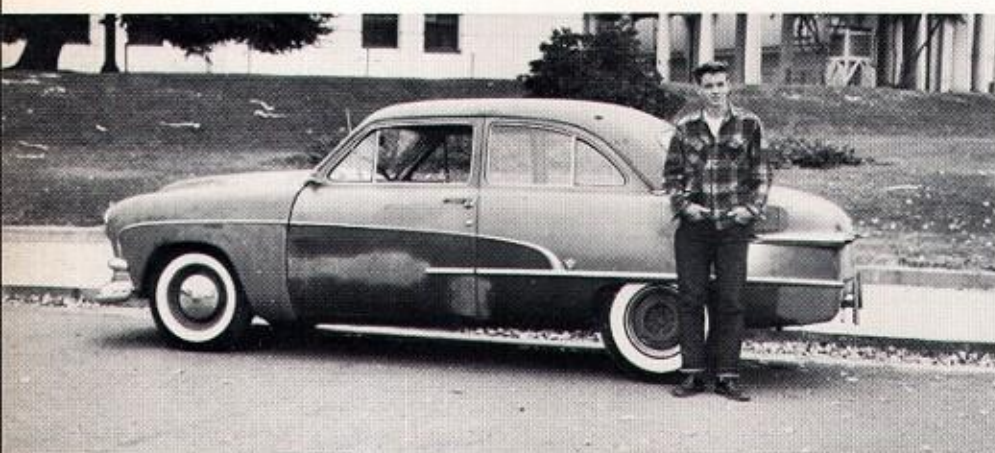

Seniors claim their car as their most prized possession! They make many changes to make their cars individualistic. Most changes include molding, raking, lowering, reupholstering, chroming, and dechroming. Because of this great interest in cars, our student parking lot is always jammed full.

An annual event top on our list during spring semester is the District Press Association Awards Banquet hosted this year by Hayward and held April 20th. Over one hundred journalism and publications students from the district's six high schools attended. These students, having submitted their best work to Dr. Dwight Bentel, Professor of Journalism at San Jose State College to be judged, were eager to learn who had been judged best. Awards were presented in twenty-three categories. Guest speaker of the evening was Bill Fiset, Feature writer for the Oakland Tribune. Advisers were Eleanor Hawksley and Muriel Silva.

Dancing at the Freshman dance were (L. to R.): G. Anderson, M. Hutchings, S. Rogers, D. Harrelson, P. Eddy, J. Holmgren, J. Colson, and S. Vierra.

Nominations and Election Committee, (L. to R.): S. Davis, M. Rau, S. Schaffler, Chairman—L. Conley, and C. Graham.

Hayday and Yearbook—Last Big School Activities

A view of Hayday when the beard contest winners were announced.

The last activity for a Senior is the signing-out day. On this day the Seniors sign out of each of their classes and turn in their books.

Many students are seen signing yearbooks including the Seniors who are rushed to get all the signatures before their last day of school.

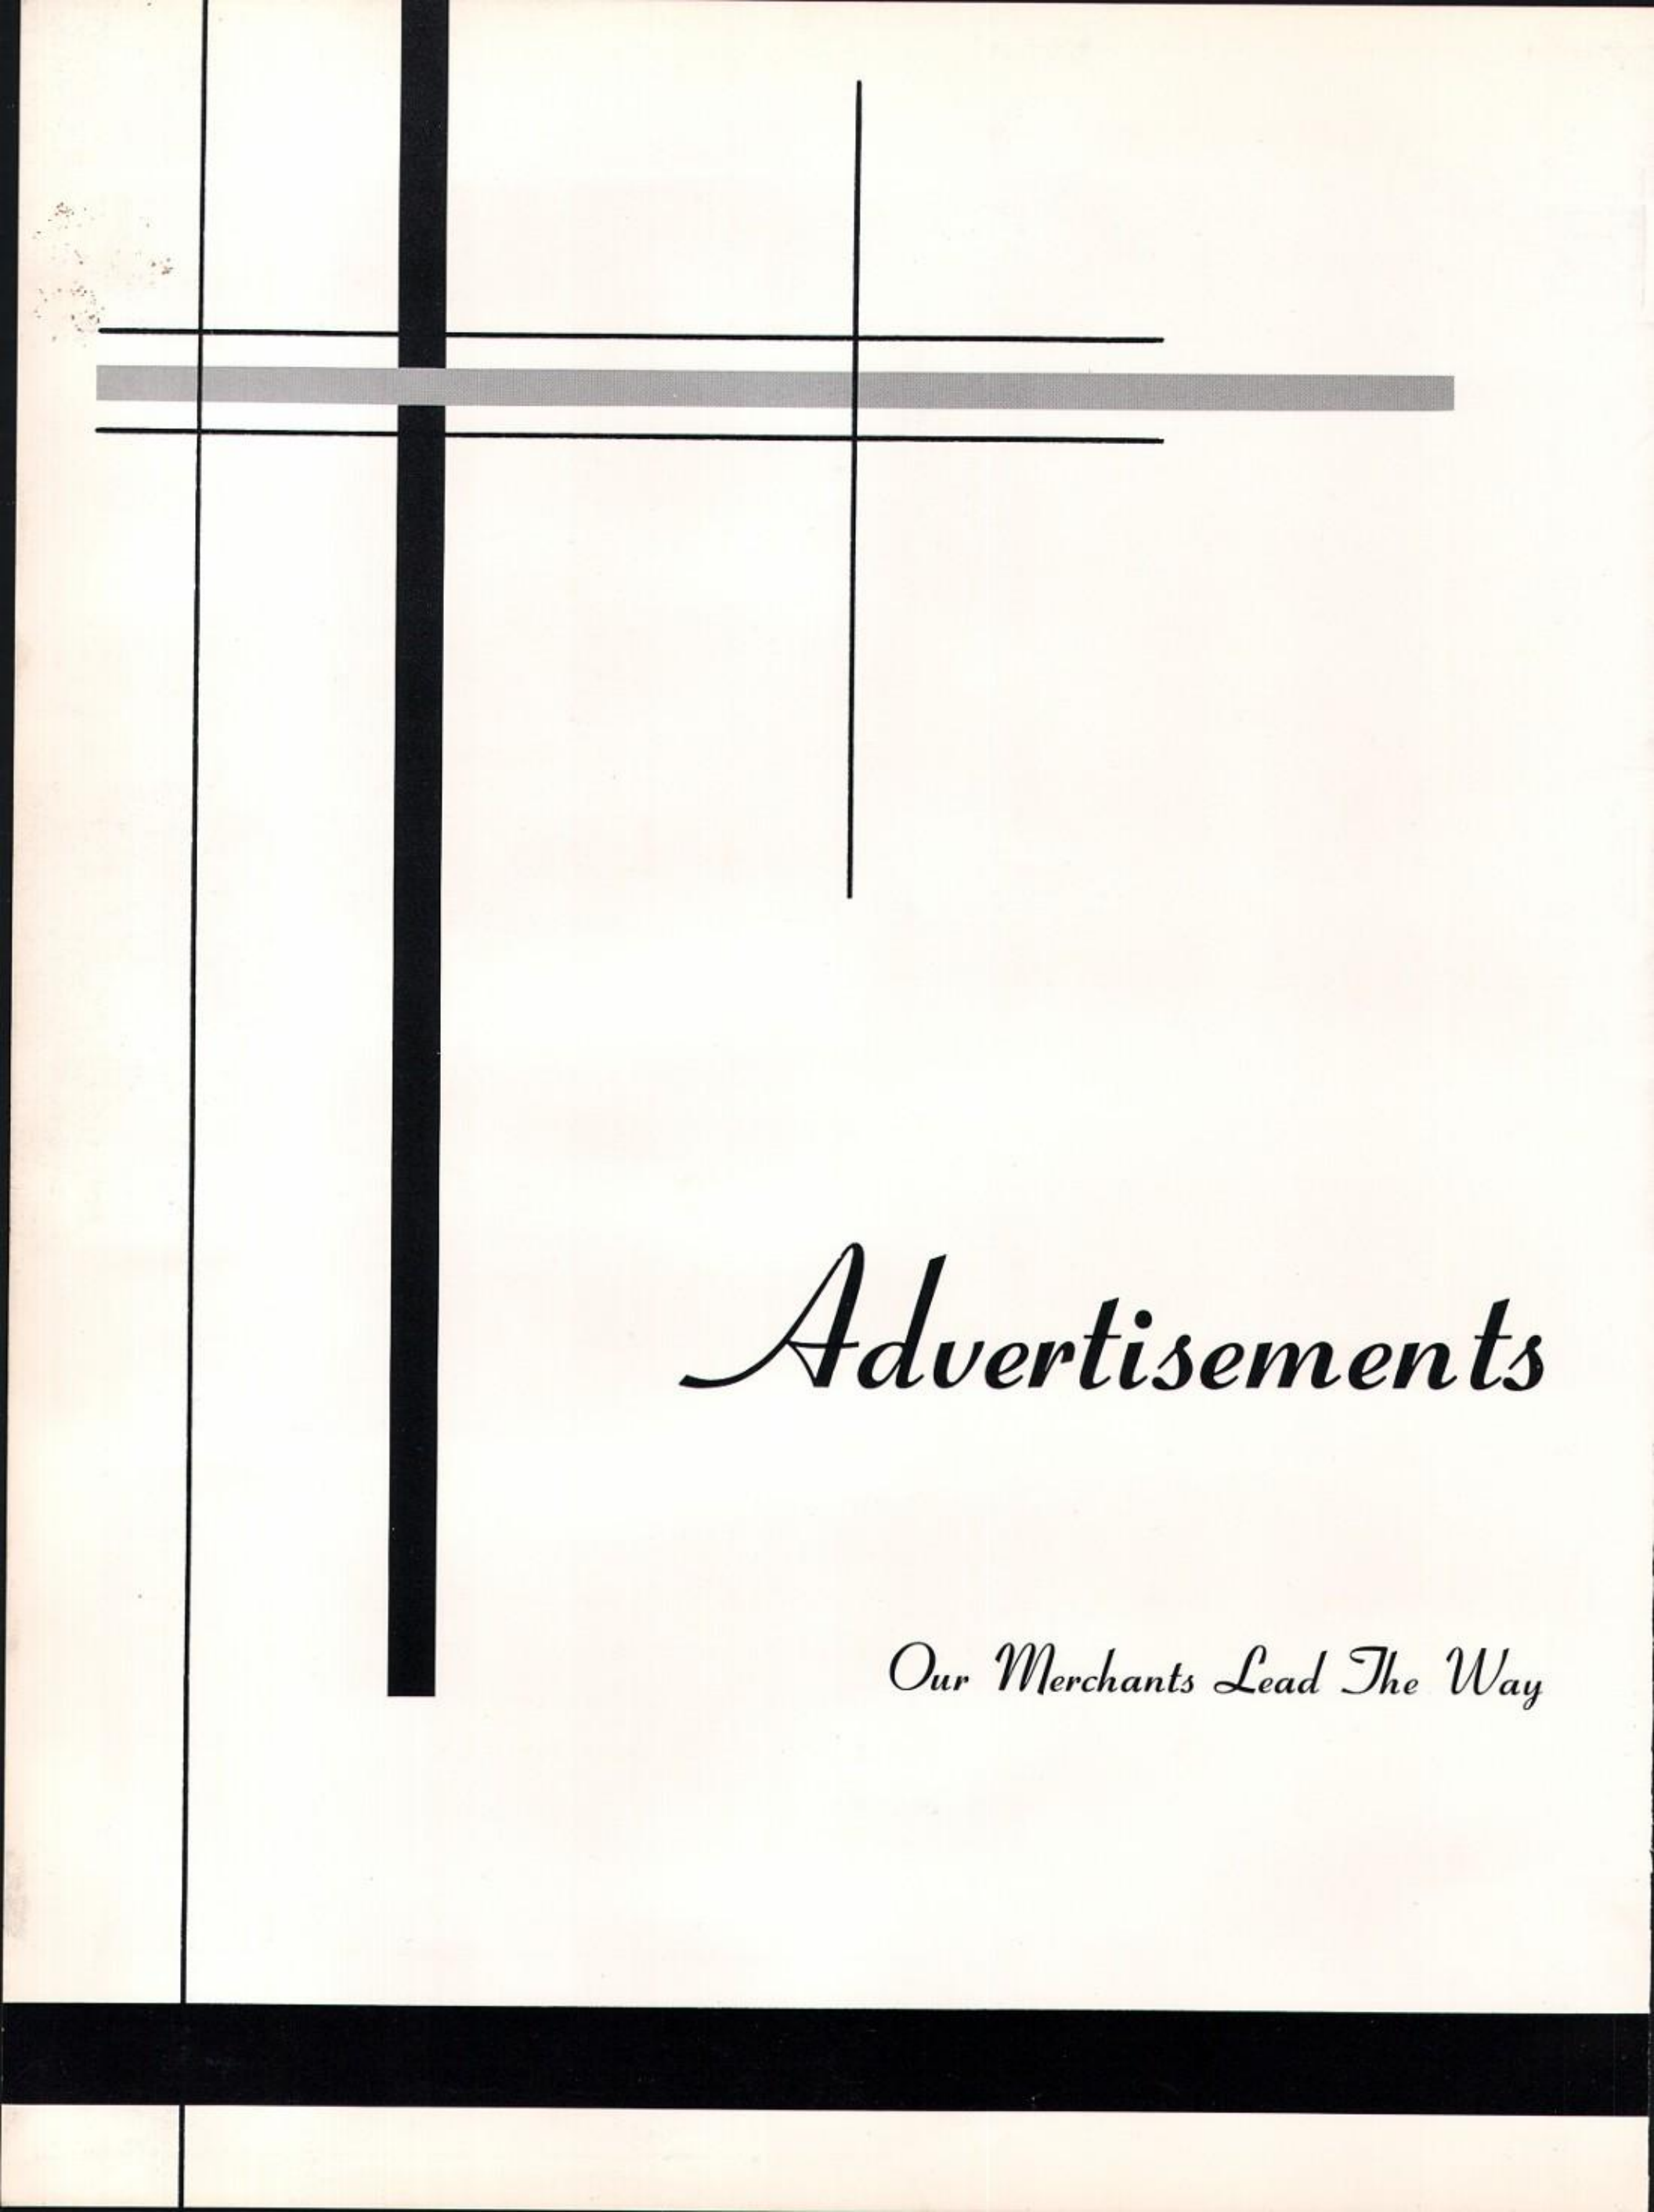

A view of Hanlon Field on Hayday.

Students signing yearbooks on the Senior patio are, front, (L. to R.): S. Raymor, L. Booth, E. Sucher, B. Thompson, E. Burr. ROW TWO: J. Schaap, H. Brownell, J. Justis. ROW THREE: B. Fitzpatrick, B. Hanrahan. ROW FOUR: S. Shaffler, J. Mendoza, J. Coop.

Conclusion

In Appreciation

The value of this 1960 Agrarian lies in the tedious and patient gatherings of details which required time and effort. This book is the result of cooperation of many people who offered and gave their assistance in order to present a lasting picture of life at Hayward High. Among those whom we wish to thank are Kee Coleman Studio, Bud Bosco of Mirro-Graphic Printers, Miss Eleanor Hawksley, Mr. Jerome Kalik, Mr. Herb Brodahl, Mr. Bob Mann, Faculty and the Administration. To conclude we wish to acknowledge our appreciation of a person who deserves a great deal of credit and thanks. She is our adviser, Mrs. Muriel Silva without whose help and guidance the task of publishing the 1960 Agrarian would have been more difficult.

Supplement

Finishing Touches

Forward

Our first Agrarian supplement was inspired by the record of the many seniors in the class of 1960. Since the yearbook "goes to bed" on April 1 to accommodate delivery from the printers by June, the supplement pictures what happened in our busy school lives at Hayward from April till June. It is planned by seniors, for seniors. Be sure to fasten it to the inside back cover of your 1960 Agrarian. Your Pathway to memories is certain to lead into the pathway of success in your future lives.

Girls at Senior Ball apply "finishing touches"

School Dances

As the end of the school year rolled around, the students at Hayward seemed to get a second breath of enthusiasm. They began to rock and roll to the music played at the last four dances. Students gathered to enjoy dance music provided by Block H, Key Club, and F. B. L. A. There was more to come and excitement ahead as students awaited the Hay Day Dance and the Signature Party.

L. to R.: R. Rollins, D. Phillips, E. Fallavena, S. Loux, J. McClung, R. Brandon, B. Hanrahan, J. Mendoza, M. Hyman, S. Walker.

L. to R.: B. Walker, J. Rosvall, B. Deadrich, K. Gusifsen, A. Noonan, L. Augusta.

Seniors relax for a moment at the Senior Ball.

John Joseph and Jean Colson wait anxiously for the results of the beard growing contest.

Jean P. Colson and Arline Little are crowned King and Queen of Hayday.

World Go Round

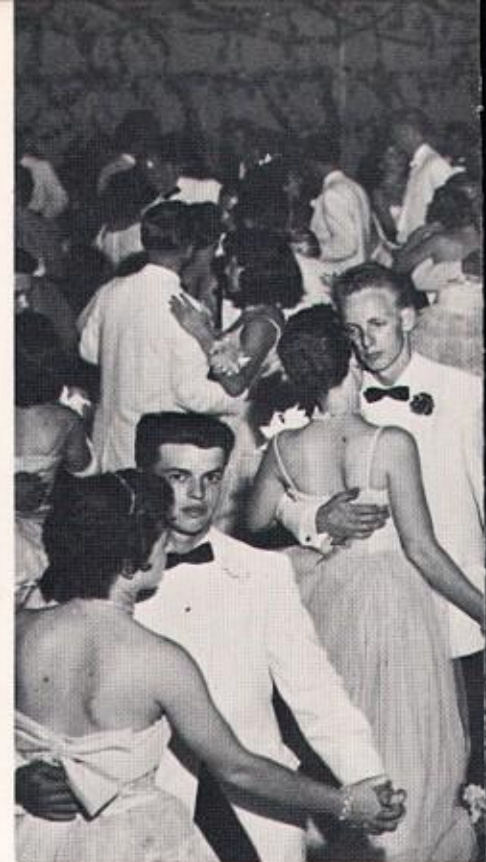

Hayday Round-up was the theme for this year's Hayday Dance. Sunburned students came to the dance awaiting traditional elections for King and Queen Hayseed and for the beard growing contest. Everyone had a good time dancing to the latest records.

J. Aho, R. Denend, J. Mahler, R. Paz, J. Joseph, and J. Rinella dance to the music of the Hayday Dance.

Press Banquet

The annual Press Association Banquet was held at Sunset High in May. The purpose of the banquet was to give recognition to outstanding students working in the field of Journalism and Publications. The honored guests were Bill Fiset, Oakland Tribune writer; Mrs. Wiseman and Andy Morgensen from the Daily Review.

Government Day

Government Day is conducted each year to acquaint the voters and leaders of tomorrow with the functions of their local government. Twenty-four student body leaders under the direction of Mr. Morrisson literally took over Hayward's City Hall. They interviewed city department heads on municipal issues of the day, then staged a mock council meeting.

Senior activities on campus

Pat Simon hurries to get out of the rain.

Cut Day

Senior fun was dampened with an unusual rainy day May 23 at Little Hills Ranch in Crow Canyon.

Rich Rollins and Judy Togni huddle under shelter with other disappointed seniors.

Hay Day

After stuffing themselves at food booths, seniors and underclassmen joined in games of egg-throwing, tug-of-war, etc. The day was climaxed by Donkey Basketball between Faculty and Varsity.

Senior boys pulling to win the tug-of-war.

L. to R.: B. Tenery, R. Rollins, D. Fields, D. Nichols, E. Fallavena compete in pie-eating contest.

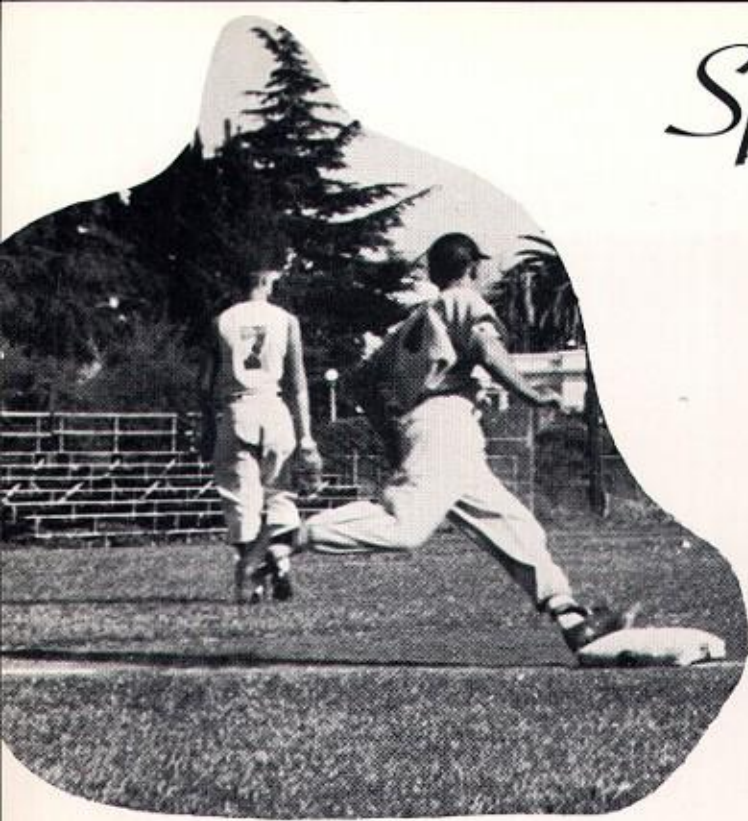

Coach Phillips and Coach Hitchcock lead the faculty team to victory over Farmer varsity.

J. Ralls, R. Rollins, Coach Phillips ready to start.

Spring Sports find many seniors ending prep careers

Dwane Harrelson gets another hit for the Farmers against Tennyson.

Baseball

The varsity team did a good job ending the league at 5 wins - 5 losses. Led by top players John Ralls, Dave Paulo, and Gary Souza, this team never gave up. They were the only team to beat the champions of the league twice.

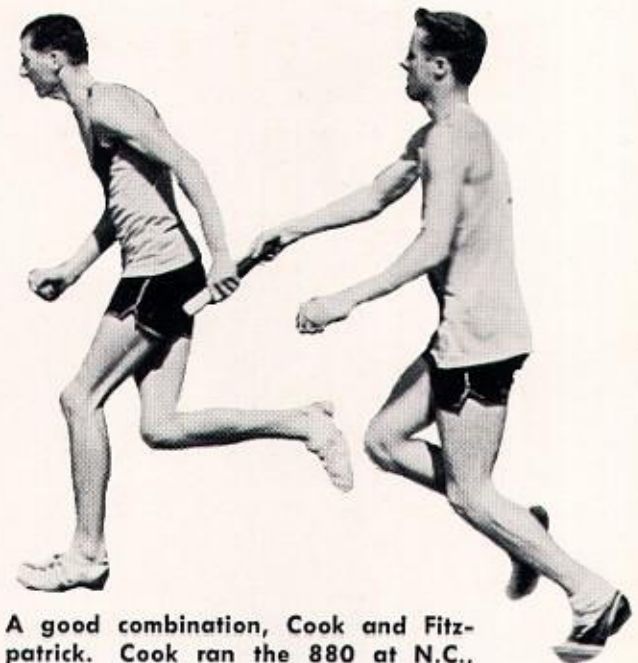

Dave Paulo catches San Leandro boy napping off first.

Bob Fitzpatrick winning the 440 at N.C.S.

Track

The track team did an outstanding job, led by a fine coach. The team was edged out of the S.A.C.A.L. by 130 points for first. This year the team had a boy go to the state meet. Bob Fitzpatrick did a fine job representing Hayward.

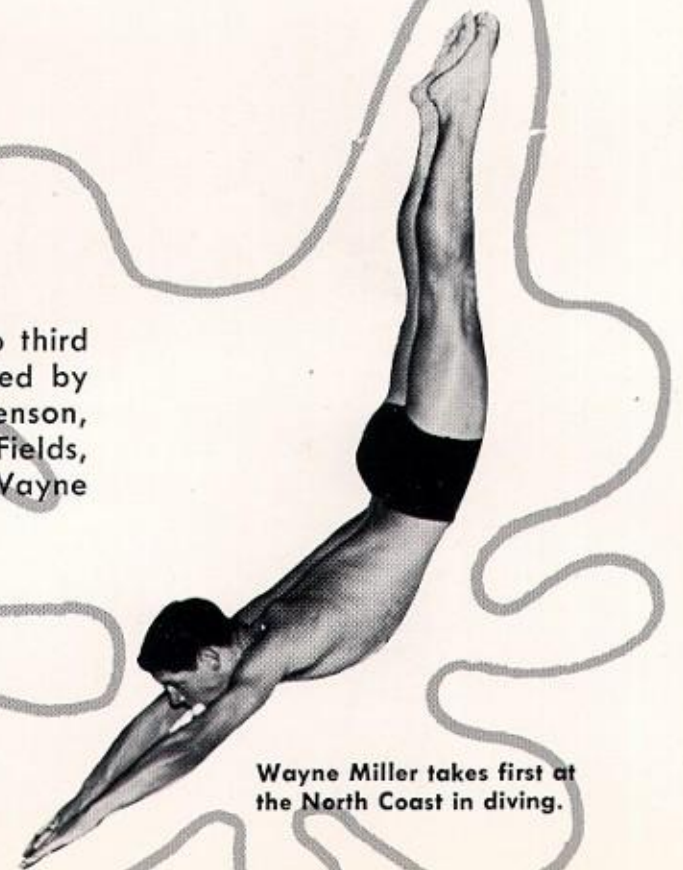

A good combination, Cook and Fitzpatrick. Cook ran the 880 at N.C., and Fitzpatrick ran the 440 at state.

Swimming

The Aquamen splashed their way to third place in the A.C.A.L. The team was led by the fine performances of Jim Clemenson, Walt Frichner, Jeryl Fischer, Duane Fields, and the A.C.A.L. diving champion, Wayne Miller.

Gary Anderson sings to victory for the Farmers.

Wayne Miller takes first at the North Coast in diving.

Farewell

May you always remember your life at Hayward High with happiness and pride of many accomplishments. Friendships may fade because our paths separate, but memories linger on. Your record is a part of Hayward High forever. We hope your memory of Hayward will last forever, too. Good luck!
